

SEXTON THE WINNER.

Elected Commander-In-Chief of the G. A. R.

PHILADELPHIA WAS CHOSEN.

That City Received Most Votes as the Place For the Encampment Next Year. Strong Friendship For Alger Apparent—Some of the Proceedings.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Colonel James A. Sexton of Chicago was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday, and Philadelphia was chosen for the thirty-third annual encampment next year. While there were all sorts of combinations between the state departments, yet the fight between New York and Pennsylvania was very bitter. These two neighboring states were competitors for honor, one for the election of Colonel A. D. Shaw of Watertown, N. Y., as commander-in-chief, and the other for the location of the next national encampment at the Quaker City.

New York voted to hold the next encampment at Denver and it was only by the diplomacy and shrewd management of the Chicago contingent in the interest of Sexton that Denver lost in the strong contest for the next encampment. While it is true that Pennsylvania gave Sexton a strong vote from the east, yet it is also true that the shrewd managers from Chicago gave Philadelphia much more than the solid vote of Illinois in the contest for the location of the next encampment. The vote for commander-in-chief was 424 votes for Sexton and 241 for Shaw. Philadelphia got 395 votes to 295 for Denver for the next meeting place.

The peace jubilee parade of the civic and industrial organizations yesterday afternoon was a magnificent pageant. It was estimated that there were 40,000 in line and over 500,000 spectators along the line.

The river fronts and some parks and Camp Sherman were ablaze last night with elaborate displays of fireworks.

The national encampment elected only its commander-in-chief yesterday, and will elect its other officers today, adopt its resolutions and attend to other business.

The auxiliaries of the ladies elect their officers also today.

When the report on pensions was made, yesterday, Corporal Tanner made an attack on Commissioner Evans' treatment of pension cases, and action on the report was postponed until after the report of the committee on resolutions.

Mrs. William Scott, a negro woman, made a plea for more recognition for the old negro soldiers.

Mrs. Martin, national president of the Woman's Relief corps, asked that the corps be allowed to use its funds to help relieve soldiers who served in the recent war against Spain. It was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Among those on the committee on resolutions were: Ohio, A. M. Warner; Pennsylvania, C. W. Hazzard; West Virginia, George J. Walker; Maryland, Robert C. Sunstrom.

General Gobin made his annual report yesterday, which in part was as follows:

As comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, we can look over the events of the year just passed with feelings of congratulations and just pride.

To our esteemed comrade, President William McKinley, and his secretary of war, our past commander-in-chief, R. A. Alger, we have given our individual and organized support in the arduous duties imposed upon them. Never in the world's history has there been an occasion when the experience of leaders in national strife rendered them so thoroughly competent to meet the difficulties encountered. Our people are proverbially peaceful in their desires. Averse to war, naturally, no portion of them are more so than the men who by personal experience have participated in its horrors.

Yet at the call of the president there was no delay, no hesitancy in responding, and today there are no regrets and no division of sentiment as to the magnificent manner in which those officials have performed the arduous duties of their important positions. The congratulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, eye of the nation, are due them, and from this present encampment there should go forward no uncertain words as to our united support to the government in solving the difficult problems yet before them. Confident are we that the result will justify the supreme faith which we repose in these, our comrades, and through their efforts we believe the nation will continue advancing under the providence of Almighty God to the higher position which he has evidently designed for it.

When the annual reports were being read, especially Gobin's, there was considerable cheering at the mention of President McKinley's name, but when the name of Secretary Alger was mentioned in connection with the recent war there was an uproarious demonstration in his favor. After the reports had been referred to their respective committees many resolutions were offered, specifically indorsing the administration of General Alger in the war department.

A resolution was introduced to have the school histories use the term of "the war between the states," instead of "the war of the rebellion." It is quite likely that resolutions will be adopted providing for the use of the term of "war for the preservation of the Union." There will likely also be an effort made to secure representation for the colored men in the national encampment.

ALGER VISITED MEADE.

The Secretary of War Made a Tour of the Camp Today—More Sick Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Secretary of War Alger arrived at Camp Meade on a tour of inspection early this morning and left about noon for Detroit. The secretary's car was sidetracked near Camp Meade station, and after breakfast General Walker and his party were driven to corps headquarters. Here they were met by General Graham and staff, after which the party were taken over the camp. General Graham is anxious to give a review in honor of his distinguished guest, and if he consents the entire Second army corps will be paraded.

General Shafter is expected to visit the camp today.

Secretary Alger was asked to pay especial attention to the sanitary arrangements of the camp and the appointments of the two division hospitals and the hospitals which the Red Cross society had fitted up for the treatment of typhoid fever patients.

Governor Hastings visited the camp yesterday afternoon with a small party of friends, and was delighted with its location and the appearance and condition of the men. He paid especial attention to the Pennsylvania regiments and congratulated General Graham on the pains he had taken to make them happy and comfortable. Colonel Corryell received an order last evening for the muster out of the Twelfth Pennsylvania regiment.

Last evening a hospital train from St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, took away 76 sick soldiers from the Second division hospital. The First Maryland reached camp yesterday from Fort Monroe and may be followed tonight by the Fifteenth Pennsylvania, which has been encamped at Fort Sheridan since it left Mt. Gretna. General Graham expects to complete the movement of the troops to and from camp during the next few days.

MILES IN WASHINGTON.

Crowd Cheered Him and Wife and Staff on Their Arrival—No Further Statement at Present.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army of the United States, accompanied by Mrs. Miles and Colonel Mauss and Colonel Michler, of his staff, arrived here from New York last evening.

They were met at the Sixth street station by Major Black, a member of General Miles' staff, and Captain Morton, chief clerk in the office of the commanding general.

Several hundred people had assembled at the station. A cordon of police officers opened a way through the crowd from the ticket gate to the station.

As General Miles stepped from the rear platform of his car he gave a kind greeting to his coachman, who stood awaiting him, and then handed to him a bundle of souvenir canes, while he grasped the hands of Captain Morton, Major Black and two or three newspaper men.

As General Miles passed through the crowd in the station his hands were grasped a score of times by enthusiastic men and women. As he and Mrs. Miles and Colonel Michler stepped into the carriage the crowd burst into cheers.

While expressing his gratification at the successful termination of the war and his pleasure at once more being at home, General Miles said he had nothing to say at this time in addition to the statement given to the press by him in New York.

IMMUNES NOT IMMUNE.

Yellow Fever Broke Out In a Regiment Before Santiago—Destitution Among Cubans.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 9.—Six cases of yellow fever have developed in Colonel Sargent's Fifth immune regiment.

The victims have been sent to the yellow fever hospitals, and a strict quarantine has been established against the regiment, which is encamped on the hills along the Morro road, about two miles south of the city.

There is a great deal of sickness in this regiment, but, in the opinion of the surgeons, no more yellow fever.

All the other regiments now doing garrison duty are in fairly good health. The destitution among the Cubans is still appalling. General Wood issued 52,000 free rations Wednesday. The capacity of the free supply depots is not great enough to meet the demand, and a new one is to be established shortly.

Asked to Use Water.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A letter was sent from National W. C. T. U. headquarters yesterday to Miss Daisy Leiter, who is to christen the battleship Illinois, asking her to use water instead of champagne.

REQUESTED BY ALGER.

President Asked For Investigation of War Department.

CABINET MAY CONSIDER TODAY.

It Was Stated In High Official Circles No Attention May Be Paid to General Miles' Criticisms—Some Think Him His Own Worst Enemy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Secretary Alger has requested the president to order a thorough and searching investigation of the war department. In this request the secretary has been joined by Adjutant General Corbin.

No decision has been reached yet by the president as to what course he will pursue. It may be decided at the cabinet meeting today. He has the request of Secretary Alger under consideration, but has not yet determined whether he will grant it or not.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the president last night before leaving the city and impressed upon him his earnest desire that an investigation such as he had requested be ordered.

In high official quarters the belief was expressed last night that no official attention would be paid to General Miles' criticisms. In view of much loose conjecture over the imminence of a court martial or court of inquiry for the trial of General Miles, it can be stated positively that those in authority have not up to the present time determined upon any such course of action, nor have they felt that such steps would be conducive to the best interests of the public service.

In some high official quarters there is a disposition to look upon General Miles as being his own worst enemy, and to pass over his comments as ill advised, though not to the extent of constituting insubordination, or warranting official action by the president or war department.

AGUINALDO NOT FEARED.

Story That Otis Sent Word of an Ultimatum Not True—Merritt Gave Him Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Reports have been circulated that the president received a dispatch from General Otis Wednesday saying that he had given Aguinaldo until yesterday to vacate the suburbs or else take the consequences. This was erroneous, however, as no such crisis had been reported by General Otis. There was said to be no easiness in official circles over our relations with the insurgents, as the American officers at Manila had shown an ability to cope with the situation so tactfully as to avoid friction and entanglements.

It will be recalled that Major General Merritt, before starting for Paris, advised the insurgent leader, Aguinaldo, that the authority of the United States in and about Manila must be respected, and that in the interest of a quiet and orderly administration of affairs it was desirable for the insurgents to vacate the suburbs of the city within a reasonable time. About that time Aguinaldo gave assurances of co-operating with the American forces toward the maintenance of order.

NOT SELECTED.

The President Hadn't Appointed the Fifth Peace Commissioner—Cabinet Members Called.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Three members of the cabinet were with the president shortly after noon yesterday, Secretaries Gage, Alger and Postmaster General Emory Smith. Mr. Gage's call related to the treasury appointments. Secretary Alger came to close up many small matters before starting on his western trip. The secretary left Washington last night and expects to be at Camp Meade today.

In an authoritative quarter it was stated during the day that the president had not yet selected the fifth member of the peace commission.

Owing to reports that the Miles interviews had been under consideration by the several cabinet officers with the president, it was stated by one of those present that the subject had not come up.

OUR FLAG RAISED.

Foreign Attaches Surprised at an Incident of British Army Manoeuvres on Salisbury Plain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—In view of the irritation in France, the politicians and newspapers are seeking to represent the czar's peace circular in a new light. They urge that it has been misconstrued and assert that the imperial government never contemplated the immediate convocation of a conference, being fully aware of the difficulties in the way. It was only hoped, they continue, to sow good seed which would gradually germinate and bear fruit when circumstances are more favorable.

These utterances are regarded as indicating, owing particularly to the attitude of France, that the failure of the czar's proposal is foreseen and that public opinion is being prepared for it.

THE TENTH RECRUITS.

Pennsylvanians Held at Honolulu—Congressional Commissioners' Tour. Distress Among Immigrants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The steamer Glengyle, which arrived yesterday from Kongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu, brought advices from Honolulu under date of Aug. 31.

The congressional commission, with the exception of President Dole, left for the other islands on Aug. 22 and returned on Aug. 28, after visiting the principal towns of Maui and Hawaii. In speaking of the trip Senator Morgan said that he thought they had very effectively disposed of the prevalent idea among the natives that annexation was only a war measure.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani arrived at Hilo at the same time the commissioners arrived, and accompanied them in a separate conveyance to the volcano. She was very courteous.

General Merriam states that his orders from Washington are to hold everything at Honolulu until he hears from the government again. These instructions apply to the Tacoma and her livestock as well as the Arizona and her troops.

The steamship Arizona has arrived here with the Third battalion, Eighteenth infantry, recruits of the First Colorado, First Nebraska, Tenth Pennsylvania and Third artillery, in all 1,206 men, besides General Merriam and the Red Cross corps. Preparations are being made to have the troops on the Arizona camp at Kapiolani park in case they are to be held here instead of going to Manila.

The Chinese have presented a memorial to the congressional commission asking that all Chinese that have become naturalized under the laws of Hawaii and all children born in Hawaii be permitted the right of transit to and from all parts of the United States.

There is much distress here among a large number of people who have rushed to the Hawaiian Islands expecting to engage in business. They have come with but little money and they find there is nothing here for them to do.

SPANISH DELAYING.

The Commissioners in Porto Rico Seem Inclined to Hold Back Proceedings—Americans' Reply.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Sept. 9.—The Spanish evacuation commissioners seemed disposed yesterday to delay the meeting of the commissions. They said their instructions had not yet arrived, but were expected on the Alfonso XIII in the course of a few days. They intimated that even then they would need time to study them.

The American commissioners replied that the first meeting must occur before Sept. 12, under the terms of the peace protocol.

The United States cruiser Cincinnati, Captain Chester, arrived yesterday morning from St. Thomas and saluted the Spanish flag and Rear Admiral Schley's pennant. The Spanish forts and warships replied.

Yesterday being a holiday the city was covered with Spanish flags and all the shops and banks were closed.

Military mass was celebrated in the Catholic churches. Brigadier General Gordon, Rear Admiral Schley and the Americans in the city attended.

SEVEN MORE DIED.

Quite a Death List Reported From Camp Wikoff—Two Brothers Among the Dead.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I., Sept. 9.—The death list from the general hospital yesterday included the following:

Joseph Keene, Company H, Ninth Massachusetts.

Elden T. Keene, his brother, Company H, Ninth Massachusetts.

Frank A. Griffith, Company I, First District of Columbia.

Joseph Berman, Company A, Third infantry.

J. C. Long, Company C, Eighth Ohio. The Keene brothers died within an hour of each other with malarial fever.

Yesterday there were 761 patients in the general hospital and 900 vacant cots. In the detention hospital there were 350 and 200 vacant beds.

Michigan Hospital Train.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—The nucleus of a hospital train, which Governor Pingree had arranged for to bring home the sick of the Thirty-first Michigan from Knoxville and of the Thirty-second Michigan from the division hospital and Fort McPherson, left last night over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad.

Weather Forecast.

Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness, and on the lakes probably showers; continued low temperature; light variable winds.

EIGHTH BOYS HOME.

Given Great Welcomes at the Various Places.

SOME NEARLY TO ILL TO WALK.

On Reaching Cleveland They Scattered to Their Various Home Towns and Cities—Some Left Buried In Cuban Soil. Several Banquets Intended.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—The Eighth Ohio volunteer regiment. (President's Own) arrived in this city over the Lake Shore road early yesterday morning from Montauk Point. A corps of physicians was on hand at the station when the train arrived. In all 12 companies arrived. They were: A of Bucyrus, B of Akron, C of Polk, D of Wooster, E of East Liverpool, F, L and I of Canton, H of Shreve, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield and G of Wadsworth.

After being served with a good breakfast the men scattered, taking trains on various roads from this city direct for their homes.

Colonel Hard said there was no time at which the men of his regiment were starving, and although there were times when food was scarce, there was no time when the men did not have a little to eat.

At Wooster fully 5,000 people were at the train and joined in a monster procession in honor of the soldiers. Every soldier who came with the company was able to march. Fourteen were left in the hospital at Camp Wikoff. Colonel Hard was given a hearty welcome.

At Akron about 15,000 people gathered to greet Company B. The sick were taken to their homes in carriages, while those able to march were taken to the armory.

Canton welcomed her three companies of the "President's Own" in royal style and will give them a public reception and banquet next week. Nearly 50 Canton men were left behind in the hospitals.

About 8,000 people greeted Company E of East Liverpool and enthusiastic citizens carried soldiers on their shoulders to the armory. Of the 106 men men who marched away, 45 returned with the regiment. Three have died, 40 were sent home sick, and the remainder are in hospitals at Montauk.

Only 40 members out of 106 of Company M were able to march four blocks from the depot to their armory when they reached Mansfield. Forty of them had already come home on sick leave at various times since reaching Camp Wikoff. Sixteen were taken in carriages and the other ten were behind. Captain Marquis is very ill. Privates Simpson and Coleman died and were buried on Cuban soil. Several others are quite seriously ill at their homes here.

Alliance welcomed Company K with booming cannon, ringing bells and screaming whistles. About 10,000 people cheered the soldiers and escorted them to the public square, whence they were taken home in carriages.

Company H of Shreve lost six men at Santiago. Those remaining were given a grand welcome and will be tendered a grand banquet.

Robert Potts, Charles Seacrist and Allie Kirkwood, Company E boys, arrived at Wellsville, all in good health. Private Ed Holoway is seriously ill in the hospital.

TWO MURDERED.

Man and Daughter Killed Near Cambridge, O.—Son-in-Law, Found Unconscious, Under Arrest.

CAMBRIDGE, O., Sept. 9.—Squire Boyd and daughter, Mrs. J. L. Wyrick, residing three miles east of here, were found brutally murdered yesterday. The body of Squire Boyd was lying on the floor clad only in night clothes, with a scalp wound made by a bullet, about eight inches long, passing over the top of his head, and his face and forehead terribly mutilated by some blunt instrument.

There was evidence that a terrific struggle had taken place. The body of Mrs. Wyrick was found in a doorway leading to her father's room, clad in her night clothes. She had a bullet wound through the breast. Powder marks showed that the pistol had been placed against her breast.

Orin Law, son-in-law of Mr. Boyd, was found in another room unconscious. There were no wounds or marks on his person.

Suspicion points strongly against Law and he was arrested. Law's wife died about three weeks ago and it is known that there has been trouble between him and the murdered man. Wednesday they had a quarrel.

Law remained unconscious until about 6 o'clock last evening. He would not talk of the affair.

Ohio Private Dead.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Private Burton J. Potter of Company F, Fifth Ohio infantry, died yesterday of meningitis. He was at home on sick furlough.

The steamship Arizona has arrived here with the Third battalion, Eighteenth infantry, recruits of the First Colorado, First Nebraska, Tenth Pennsylvania and Third artillery, in all 1,206 men, besides General Merriam and the Red Cross corps. Preparations are being made to have the troops on the Arizona camp at Kapiolani park in case they are to be held here instead of going to Manila.

The Chinese have presented a memorial to the congressional commission asking that all Chinese that have become naturalized under the laws of Hawaii and all children born in Hawaii be permitted the right of transit to and from all parts of the United States.

There is much distress here among a large number of people who have rushed to the Hawaiian Islands expecting to engage in business. They have come with but little money and they find there is nothing here for them to do.

SPANISH DELAYING.

The Commissioners in Porto Rico Seem Inclined to Hold Back Proceedings—Americans' Reply.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Sept. 9.—The Spanish evacuation commissioners seemed disposed yesterday to delay the meeting of the commissions. They said their instructions had not yet arrived, but were expected on the Alfonso XIII in the course of a few days. They intimated that even then they would need time to study them.

The American commissioners replied that the first meeting must occur before Sept. 12, under the terms of the peace protocol.

The United States cruiser Cincinnati, Captain Chester, arrived yesterday morning from St. Thomas and saluted the Spanish flag and Rear Admiral Schley's pennant. The Spanish forts and warships replied.

Yesterday being a holiday the city was covered with Spanish flags and all the shops and banks were closed.

Military mass was celebrated in the Catholic churches. Brigadier General Gordon, Rear Admiral Schley and the Americans in the city attended.

EIGHTH BOYS HOME.

Given Great Welcomes at the Various Places.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—The Eighth Ohio volunteer regiment (President's Own) arrived in this city over the Lake Shore road early yesterday morning from Montauk Point. A corps of physicians was on hand at the station when the train arrived. In all 12 companies arrived. They were: A of Bucyrus, B of Akron, C of Polk, D of Wooster, E of East Liverpool, F, L and I of Canton, H of Shreve, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield and G of Wadsworth.

After being served with a good breakfast the men scattered, taking trains on various roads from this city direct for their homes.

Colonel Hard said there was no time at which the men of his regiment were starving, and although there were times when food was scarce, there was no time when the men did not have a little to eat.

At Wooster fully 5,000 people were at the train and joined in a monster procession in honor of the soldiers. Every soldier who came with the company was able to march. Fourteen were left in the hospital at Camp Wikoff. Colonel Hard was given a hearty welcome.

At Akron about 15,000 people gathered to greet Company B. The sick were taken to their homes in carriages, while those able to march were taken to the armory.

Canton welcomed her three companies of the "President's Own" in royal style and will give them a public reception and banquet next week. Nearly 50 Canton men were left behind in the hospitals.

About 8,000 people greeted Company E of East Liverpool and enthusiastic citizens carried soldiers on their shoulders to the armory. Of the 108 men who marched away, 45 returned with the regiment. Three have died, 40 were sent home sick, and the remainder are in hospitals at Montauk.

Only 40 members out of 106 of Company M were able to march four blocks from the depot to their armory when they reached Mansfield. Forty of them had already come home on sick leave at various times since reaching Camp Wikoff. Sixteen were taken in carriages and the other ten were behind. Captain Marquis is very ill. Privates Simpson and Coleman died and were buried on Cuban soil. Several others are quite seriously ill at their homes here.

Alliance welcomed Company K with booming cannon, ringing bells and screaming whistles. About 10,000 people cheered the soldiers and escorted them to the public square, whence they were taken home in carriages.

Company H of Shreve lost six men at Santiago. Those remaining were given a grand welcome and will be tendered a grand banquet.

Robert Potts, Charles Seacrest and Allie Kirkwood, Company E boys, arrived at Wellsville, all in good health. Private Ed Holoway is seriously ill in the hospital.

TWO MURDERED.

Man and Daughter Killed Near Cambridge, O.—Son-in-Law, Found Unconscious, Under Arrest.

CAMBRIDGE, O., Sept. 9.—Squire Boyd and daughter, Mrs. J. L. Wyrick, residing three miles east of here, were found brutally murdered yesterday. The body of Squire Boyd was lying on the floor clad only in night clothes, with a scalp wound made by a bullet, about eight inches long, passing over the top of his head, and his face and forehead terribly mutilated by some blunt instrument.

There was evidence that a terrific struggle had taken place. The body of Mrs. Wyrick was found in a doorway leading to her father's room, clad in her night clothes. She had a bullet wound through the breast. Powder marks showed that the pistol had been placed against her breast.

Orin Law, son-in-law of Mr. Boyd, was found in another room unconscious. There were no wounds or marks on his person.

Suspicion points strongly against Law and he was arrested. Law's wife died about three weeks ago and it is known that there has been trouble between him and the murdered man. Wednesday they had a quarrel.

Law remained unconscious until about 6 o'clock last evening. He would not talk of the affair.

Ohio Private Dead.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Private Burton J. Potter of Company F, Fifth Ohio infantry, died yesterday of meningitis. He was at home on sick furlough.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 78.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, SEPT. 9, 1898.

Elected Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.

That City Received Most Votes as the Place For the Encampment Next Year. Strong Friendship For Alger Apparent—Some of the Proceedings.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Colonel James A. Sexton of Chicago was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday, and Philadelphia was chosen for the thirty-third annual encampment next year. While there were all sorts of combinations between the state departments, yet the fight between New York and Pennsylvania was very bitter. These two neighboring states were competitors for honor, one for the election of Colonel A. D. Shaw of Watertown, N. Y., as commander-in-chief, and the other for the location of the next national encampment at the Quaker City.

New York voted to hold the next encampment at Denver and it was only by the diplomacy and shrewd management of the Chicago contingent in the interest of Sexton that Denver lost in the strong contest for the next encampment. While it is true that Pennsylvania gave Sexton a strong vote from the east, yet it is also true that the shrewd managers from Chicago gave Philadelphia much more than the solid vote of Illinois in the contest for the location of the next encampment. The vote for commander-in-chief was 424 votes for Sexton and 241 for Shaw. Philadelphia got 395 votes to 295 for Denver for the next meeting place.

The peace jubilee parade of the civic and industrial organizations yesterday afternoon was a magnificent pageant. It was estimated that there were 40,000 in line and over 500,000 spectators along the line.

The river fronts and some parks and Camp Sherman were ablaze last night with elaborate displays of fireworks.

The national encampment elected only its commander-in-chief yesterday, and will elect its other officers today, adopt its resolutions and attend to other business.

The auxiliaries of the ladies elect their officers also today.

When the report on pensions was made, yesterday, Corporal Fanner made an attack on Commissioner Evans' treatment of pension cases, and action on the report was postponed until after the report of the committee on resolutions.

Mrs. William Scott, a negro woman, made a plea for more recognition for the old negro soldiers.

Mrs. Martin, national president of the Woman's Relief corps, asked that the corps be allowed to use its funds to help relieve soldiers who served in the recent war against Spain. It was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Among those on the committee on resolutions were: Ohio, A. M. Warner; Pennsylvania, C. W. Hazzard; West Virginia, George J. Walker; Maryland, Robert C. Sunstrom.

General Gobin made his annual report yesterday, which in part was as follows:

As comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, we can look over the events of the year just passed with feelings of congratulations and just pride.

To our esteemed comrade, President William McKinley, and his secretary of war, our past commander-in-chief, R. A. Alger, we have given our individual and organized support in the arduous duties imposed upon them. Never in the world's history has there been an occasion when the experience of leaders in national strife rendered them so thoroughly competent to meet the difficulties encountered. Our people are proverbially peaceful in their desires. Averse to war, naturally, no portion of them are more so than the men who by personal experience have participated in its horrors.

Yet at the call of the president there was no delay, no hesitancy in responding, and today there are no regrets and no division of sentiment as to the magnificent manner in which those officials have performed the arduous duties of their important positions. The congratulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, ay, of the nation, are due them, and from this present encampment there should go forward no uncertain words as to our united support to the government in solving the difficult problems yet before them. Confident are we that the result will justify the supreme faith which we repose in these, our comrades, and through their efforts we believe the nation will continue advancing under the providence of Almighty God to the higher position which he has evidently designed for it.

When the annual reports were being read, especially Gobin's, there was considerable cheering at the mention of President McKinley's name, but when the name of Secretary Alger was mentioned in connection with the recent war there was an uproarious demonstration in his favor. After the reports had been referred to their respective committees many resolutions were offered, specifically indorsing the administration of General Alger in the war department.

A resolution was introduced to have the school histories use the term of "the war between the states," instead of "the war of the rebellion." It is quite likely that resolutions will be adopted providing for the use of the term of "war for the preservation of the Union." There will likely also be an effort made to secure representation for the colored men in the national encampment.

ALGER VISITED MEADE.

The Secretary of War Made a Tour of the Camp Today—More Sick Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Secretary of War Alger arrived at Camp Meade on a tour of inspection early this morning and left about noon for Detroit. The secretary's car was sidetracked near Camp Meade station, and after breakfast General Walker and his party were driven to corps headquarters. Here they were met by General Graham and staff, after which the party were taken over the camp. General Graham is anxious to give a review in honor of his distinguished guest, and if he consents the entire Second army corps will be paraded.

General Shafter is expected to visit the camp today.

Secretary Alger was asked to pay especial attention to the sanitary arrangements of the camp and the appointments of the two division hospitals and the hospitals which the Red Cross society had fitted up for the treatment of typhoid fever patients.

Governor Hastings visited the camp yesterday afternoon with a small party of friends, and was delighted with its location and the appearance and condition of the men. He paid especial attention to the Pennsylvania regiments and congratulated General Graham on the pains he had taken to make them happy and comfortable. Colonel Corry received an order last evening for the muster out of the Twelfth Pennsylvania regiment.

Last evening a hospital train from St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, took away 76 sick soldiers from the Second division hospital. The First Maryland reached camp yesterday from Fort Monroe and may be followed tonight by the fifteenth Pennsylvania, which has been encamped at Fort Sheridan since it left Mt. Gretna. General Graham expects to complete the movement of the troops to and from camp during the next few days.

MILES IN WASHINGTON.

Crowd Cheered Him and Wife and Staff on Their Arrival—No Further Statement at Present.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army of the United States, accompanied by Mrs. Miles and Colonel Mauss and Colonel Michler, of his staff, arrived here from New York last evening.

They were met at the Sixth street station by Major Black, a member of General Miles' staff, and Captain Morton, chief clerk in the office of the commanding general.

Several hundred people had assembled at the station. A cordon of police officers opened a way through the crowd from the ticket gate to the station.

As General Miles stepped from the rear platform of his car he gave a kind greeting to his coachman, who stood awaiting him, and then handed to him a bundle of souvenir canes, while he grasped the hands of Captain Morton, Major Black and two or three newspaper men.

As General Miles passed through the crowd in the station his hands were grasped a score of times by enthusiastic men and women. As he and Mrs. Miles and Colonel Michler stepped into the carriage the crowd burst into cheers.

While expressing his gratification at the successful termination of the war and his pleasure at once more being at home, General Miles said he had nothing to say at this time in addition to the statement given to the press by him in New York.

IMMUNES NOT IMMUNE.

Yellow Fever Broke Out in a Regiment Before Santiago—Destitution Among Cubans.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 9.—Six cases of yellow fever have developed in Colonel Sargent's Fifth immune regiment.

The victims have been sent to the yellow fever hospitals, and a strict quarantine has been established against the regiment, which is encamped on the hills along the Morro road, about two miles south of the city.

There is a great deal of sickness in this regiment, but, in the opinion of the surgeons, no more yellow fever.

All the other regiments now doing garrison duty are in fairly good health. The destitution among the Cubans is still appalling. General Wood issued 52,000 free rations Wednesday. The capacity of the free supply depots is not great enough to meet the demand, and a new one is to be established shortly.

Asked to Use Water.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A letter was sent from National W. C. T. U. headquarters yesterday to Miss Daisy Leiter, who is to christen the battleship Illinois, asking her to use water instead of champagne.

REQUESTED BY ALGER.

President Asked For Investigation of War Department.

CABINET MAY CONSIDER TODAY.

It Was Stated In High Official Circles No Attention May Be Paid to General Miles' Criticisms—Some Think Him His Own Worst Enemy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Secretary Alger has requested the president to order a thorough and searching investigation of the war department. In this request the secretary has been joined by Adjutant General Corbin.

No decision has been reached yet by the president as to what course he will pursue. It may be decided at the cabinet meeting today. He has the request of Secretary Alger under consideration, but has not yet determined whether he will grant it or not.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the president last night before leaving the city and impressed upon him his earnest desire that an investigation such as he had requested be ordered.

In high official quarters the belief was expressed last night that no official attention would be paid to General Miles' criticisms. In view of much loose conjecture over the imminence of a court martial or court of inquiry for the trial of General Miles, it can be stated positively that those in authority have not up to the present time determined upon any such course of action, nor have they felt that such steps would be conducive to the best interests of the public service.

In some high official quarters there is a disposition to look upon General Miles as being his own worst enemy, and to pass over his comments as ill advised, though not to the extent of constituting insubordination, or warranting official action by the president or war department.

AGUINALDO NOT FEARED.

Story That Otis Sent Word of an Ultimatum Not True—Merritt Gave Him Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Reports have been circulated that the president received a dispatch from General Otis Wednesday saying that he had given Aguinaldo until yesterday to vacate the suburbs or else take the consequences. This was erroneous, however, as no such crisis had been reported by General Otis. There was said to be no uneasiness in official circles over our relations with the insurgents, as the American officers at Manila had shown an ability to cope with the situation so tactfully as to avoid friction and entanglements.

It will be recalled that Major General Merritt, before starting for Paris, advised the insurgent leader, Aguinaldo, that the authority of the United States in and about Manila must be respected, and that in the interest of a quiet and orderly administration of affairs it was desirable for the insurgents to vacate the suburbs of the city within a reasonable time. About that time Aguinaldo gave assurances of co-operating with the American forces toward the maintenance of order.

NOT SELECTED.

The President Hadn't Appointed the Fifth Peace Commissioner—Cabinet Members Called.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Three members of the cabinet were with the president shortly after noon yesterday, Secretaries Gage, Alger and Postmaster General Emory Smith. Mr. Gage's call related to the treasury appointments. Secretary Alger came to close up many small matters before starting on his western trip. The secretary left Washington last night and expects to be at Camp Meade today.

In an authoritative quarter it was stated during the day that the president had not yet selected the fifth member of the peace commission.

Owing to reports that the Miles interviews had been under consideration by the several cabinet officers with the president, it was stated by one of those present that the subject had not come up.

OUR FLAG RAISED.

Foreign Attaches Surprised at an Incident of British Army Manoeuvres on Salisbury Plain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—In view of the irritation in France, the politicians and newspapers are seeking to represent the czar's peace circular in a new light. They urge that it has been misconstrued and assert that the imperial government never contemplated the immediate convocation of a conference, being fully aware of the difficulties in the way. It was only hoped, they continue, to sow good seed which would gradually germinate and bear fruit when circumstances are more favorable.

These utterances are regarded as indicating, owing particularly to the attitude of France, that the failure of the czar's proposal is foreseen and that public opinion is being prepared for it.

THE TENTH RECRUITS.

Pennsylvanians Held at Honolulu—Congressional Commissioners' Tour. Distress Among Immigrants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The steamer Glenlyle, which arrived yesterday from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu, brought advices from Honolulu under date of Aug. 31.

The congressional commission, with the exception of President Dole, left for the other islands on Aug. 23 and returned on Aug. 28, after visiting the principal towns of Maui and Hawaii. In speaking of the trip Senator Morgan said that he thought they had very effectively disposed of the prevalent idea among the natives that annexation was only a war measure.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani arrived at Hilo at the same time the commissioners arrived, and accompanied them in a separate conveyance to the volcano. She was very courteous.

General Merriam states that his orders from Washington are to hold everything at Honolulu until he hears from the government again. These instructions apply to the Tacoma and her livestock as well as the Arizona and her troops.

The steamship Arizona has arrived here with the Third battalion, Eighteenth infantry, recruits of the First Colorado, First Nebraska, Tenth Pennsylvania and Third artillery, in all 1,206 men, besides General Merriam and the Red Cross corps. Preparations are being made to have the troops on the Arizona camp at Kapiolani park in case they are to be held here instead of going to Manila.

The Chinese have presented a memorial to the congressional commission asking that all Chinese that have become naturalized under the laws of Hawaii and all children born in Hawaii be permitted the right of transit to and from all parts of the United States.

There is much distress here among a large number of people who have rushed to the Hawaiian Islands expecting to engage in business. They have come with but little money and they find there is nothing here for them to do.

They said their instructions had not yet arrived, but were expected on the Alfonso XIII in the course of a few days. They intimated that even then they would need time to study them.

The American commissioners replied that the first meeting must occur before Sept. 12, under the terms of the peace protocol.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—The Eighth Ohio volunteer regiment (President's Own) arrived in this city over the Lake Shore road early yesterday morning from Montauk Point. A corps of physicians was on hand at the station when the train arrived. In all 12 companies arrived. They were: A of Bucyrus, B of Akron, C of Polk, D of Wooster, E of East Liverpool, F, L and I of Canton, H of Shreve, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield and G of Wadsworth.

After being served with a good breakfast the men scattered, taking trains on various roads from this city direct for their homes.

WOULD SUPPORT BRYAN.

Teller So Declared to His Followers.
Conflicting Factions Compromised
Regarding Halls.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—Four state conventions, representing the Democratic, Populist and fusion and anti-fusion Silver Republicans, assembled in this city yesterday, each in a separate hall. Further conflict over the possession of the opera house between the Silver Republican factions was averted by an agreement to hold separate conventions in other halls.

Senator Teller was then elected temporary chairman. He made a speech in which he reiterated his well known views on the silver question. He said he would gladly support Bryan in 1900.

Senator Teller declared President McKinley was an enemy of silver. He advocated retention of the Philippines. Senator Walcott came to town yesterday and has been in conference with some of the anti-Teller Silver Republican leaders.

This faction will declare for the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1," omitting the words "without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation." The resolution will commend President McKinley's war policy.

At the end of yesterday's sessions of the four state conventions the chances for fusion between the Democrats, Populists and the Teller branch of the Silver Republican party appeared little brighter.

WHEELER'S BEREAVEMENT.

Body of His Young Son and That of Lieutenant Kirkpatrick Found.
Probably Third Victim.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I. Sept. 9.—The bodies of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, the son of Major General Joseph Wheeler, and Second Lieutenant Newton D. Kirkpatrick of the First United States cavalry, who were drowned while bathing in the sea Wednesday, came in with the tide and were thrown on the beach about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A detail of 60 men from the Second cavalry had been patrolling the beach with lanterns. Cavalry men gathered from up and down the beach and followed the bodies to General Wheeler's headquarters. With General Wheeler were three of his daughters, who had been in camp nursing the sick.

The uniform of an infantry private, with shoes, hat and underwear, were found on the beach yesterday morning. It is inferred that a third man was drowned Wednesday night. A name was on the inside of the trousers, but it was illegible.

USED REVOLVERS IN COLLECTING.

East St. Louis Man Got a $10,416 Check,
but Was Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William R. McFarland, of the horse commission firm of McFarland & Evans of East St. Louis, yesterday walked into the office of Louis Newgass & Son, at the stock yards here, and compelled Louis N. Newgass, the junior member of the firm, and his cashier, Frank Moseley, to write him out a check for $10,416. He then made them swear not to follow him or raise an outcry.

After he left they informed police headquarters and two detectives caught him trying to cash the check in a bank. The $10,416 which McFarland attempted to collect is said to be the amount due McFarland in consequence of a sale of horses to the De Four Commission company, which deal had been returned to Newgass & Son. McFarland is said to have feared he would come out loser in the transfer.

ORDER RESTORED IN CRETE.

Muslims Allowed Houses of Christians

CANDIA, island of Crete, Sept. 9.—A detachment of international troops, which arrived here yesterday, occupied the fortifications and restored order.

It is now estimated that 200 persons were killed during the rioting. The Mussulman troops protected the Christians placed under their care, but they did not attempt to prevent the pillage of Christian houses, which continued until the international troops arrived.

HE LOST TWO FINGERS

The Gun Went Off While
Charles Pinkerton

WAS CLIMBING OVER A FENCE

And as a Result He Is Suffering a Great Deal of Pain—George Cox Narrowly Escaped Serious Injury by a Gas Explosion at the Goodwin Pottery.

Charles Pinkerton, a 17-year-old boy
residing with his parents in Pennsylvania avenue, East End, met with an accident yesterday afternoon which resulted seriously.

Pinkerton was climbing over a fence
and in his right hand was a shot gun.
When he was in the act of getting from
the fence the gun in some manner was discharged, the shot going through the palm of the hand and injuring two fingers so badly that they had to be amputated. The injury is very painful, and it will some time before he will be able to use his hand.

George Cox, of Jackson square, and employed at the Goodwin pottery as an oddman, met with an accident that might have resulted in his death yesterday.

Shortly before noon Cox went into the gloss kiln shed for the purpose of cleaning it out. The kiln is fired by gas, and after each firing is cleaned.
Cox put his head in one of the coal shutes and then lit a match. He was about to commence his work when suddenly some escaping gas ignited, which threw Cox from the kiln, a distance of several feet. Several workmen standing near went to his assistance, and upon examination it was found that he was badly burned about the arms and face.
During the afternoon it was with difficulty that he was able to see from his left eye. Restoratives were applied, which relieved the man, but during the afternoon his injuries were very painful.

This is the first accident of that character which has occurred at the Goodwin pottery, as every precaution is taken
to avoid accidents in the kiln sheds.

Teller So Declared to His Followers.
Conflicting Factions Compromised
Regarding Halls.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—Four state conventions, representing the Democratic, Populist and fusion and anti-fusion Silver Republicans, assembled in this city yesterday, each in a separate hall. Further conflict over the possession of the opera house between the Silver Republican factions was averted by an agreement to hold separate conventions in other halls.

Senator Teller was then elected temporary chairman. He made a speech in which he reiterated his well known views on the silver question. He said he would gladly support Bryan in 1900.

Senator Teller declared President McKinley was an enemy of silver. He advocated retention of the Philippines. Senator Walcott came to town yesterday and has been in conference with some of the anti-Teller Silver Republican leaders.

This faction will declare for the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1," omitting the words "without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation." The resolution will commend President McKinley's war policy.

At the end of yesterday's sessions of the four state conventions the chances for fusion between the Democrats, Populists and the Teller branch of the Silver Republican party appeared little brighter.

WHEELER'S BEREAVEMENT.

Body of His Young Son and That of Lieutenant Kirkpatrick Found.
Probably Third Victim.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I. Sept. 9.—The bodies of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, the son of Major General Joseph Wheeler, and Second Lieutenant Newton D. Kirkpatrick of the First United States cavalry, who were drowned while bathing in the sea Wednesday, came in with the tide and were thrown on the beach about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A detail of 60 men from the Second cavalry had been patrolling the beach with lanterns. Cavalry men gathered from up and down the beach and followed the bodies to General Wheeler's headquarters. With General Wheeler were three of his daughters, who had been in camp nursing the sick.

The uniform of an infantry private, with shoes, hat and underwear, were found on the beach yesterday morning. It is inferred that a third man was drowned Wednesday night. A name was on the inside of the trousers, but it was illegible.

USED REVOLVERS IN COLLECTING.

East St. Louis Man Got a $10,416 Check,
but Was Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William R. McFarland, of the horse commission firm of McFarland & Evans of East St. Louis, yesterday walked into the office of Louis Newgass & Son, at the stock yards here, and compelled Louis N. Newgass, the junior member of the firm, and his cashier, Frank Moseley, to write him out a check for $10,416. He then made them swear not to follow him or raise an outcry.

After he left they informed police headquarters and two detectives caught him trying to cash the check in a bank. The $10,416 which McFarland attempted to collect is said to be the amount due McFarland in consequence of a sale of horses to the De Four Commission company, which deal had been returned to Newgass & Son. McFarland is said to have feared he would come out loser in the transfer.

ORDER RESTORED IN CRETE.

to Be Pillaged.

CANDIA, island of Crete, Sept. 9.—A detachment of international troops, which arrived here yesterday, occupied the fortifications and restored order.

It is now estimated that 300 persons were killed during the rioting. The Mussulman troops protected the Christians placed under their care, but they did not attempt to prevent the pillage of Christian houses, which continued until the international troops arrived.

HE LOST TWO FINGERS

The Gun Went Off While
Charles Pinkerton

WAS CLIMBING OVER A FENCE

Deal of Pain—George Cox Narrowly
Escaped Serious Injury by a Gas Explosion at the Goodwin Pottery.

Charles Pinkerton, a 17-year-old boy
residing with his parents in Pennsylvania avenue, East End, met with an accident yesterday afternoon which resulted seriously.

Pinkerton was climbing over a fence
and in his right hand was a shot gun.
When he was in the act of getting from
the fence the gun in some manner was discharged, the shot going through the
palm of the hand and injuring two fingers so badly that they had to be amputated. The injury is very painful,
and it will some time before he will be able to use his hand.

George Cox, of Jackson square, and
employed at the Goodwin pottery as an oddman, met with an accident that might have resulted in his death yesterday.

Shortly before noon Cox went into the glass kiln shed for the purpose of cleaning it out. The kiln is fired by
gas, and after each firing is cleaned.
Cox put his head in one of the coal
shutes and then lit a match. He was about to commence his work when suddenly some escaping gas ignited, which threw Cox from the kiln, a distance of several feet. Several workmen standing near went to his assistance, and upon examination it was found that he was badly burned about the arms and face.
During the afternoon it was with diffi-
left eye. Restoratives were applied,
which relieved the man, but during the afternoon his injuries were very painful.

This is the first accident of that character which has occurred at the Goodwin pottery, as every precaution is taken
to avoid accidents in the kiln sheds.

Teller So Declared to His Followers.
Conflicting Factions Compromised
Regarding Halls.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—Four state conventions, representing the Democratic, Populist and fusion and anti-fusion Silver Republicans, assembled in this city yesterday, each in a separate hall. Further conflict over the possession of the opera house between the Silver Republican factions was averted by an agreement to hold separate conventions in other halls.

Senator Teller was then elected temporary chairman. He made a speech in which he reiterated his well known views on the silver question. He said he would gladly support Bryan in 1900.

Senator Teller declared President McKinley was an enemy of silver. He advocated retention of the Philippines. Senator Walcott came to town yesterday and has been in conference with some of the anti-Teller Silver Republican leaders.

This faction will declare for the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1," omitting the words "without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation." The resolution will commend President McKinley's war policy.

At the end of yesterday's sessions of the four state conventions the chances for fusion between the Democrats, Populists and the Teller branch of the Silver Republican party appeared little brighter.

WHEELER'S BEREAVEMENT.

Body of His Young Son and That of Lieutenant Kirkpatrick Found.
Probably Third Victim.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I., Sept. 9.—The bodies of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, the son of Major General Joseph Wheeler, and Second Lieutenant Newton D. Kirkpatrick of the First United States cavalry, who were drowned while bathing in the sea Wednesday, came in with the tide and were thrown on the beach about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A detail of 60 men from the Second cavalry had been patrolling the beach with lanterns. Cavalry men gathered from up and down the beach and followed the bodies to General Wheeler's headquarters. With General Wheeler were three of his daughters, who had been in camp nursing the sick.

The uniform of an infantry private, with shoes, hat and underwear, were found on the beach yesterday morning. It is inferred that a third man was drowned Wednesday night. A name was on the inside of the trousers, but it was illegible.

USED REVOLVERS IN COLLECTING.

East St. Louis Man Got a $10,416 Check, but Was Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William R. McFarland, of the horse commission firm of McFarland & Evans of East St. Louis, yesterday walked into the office of Louis Newgass & Son, at the stock yards here, and compelled Louis N. Newgass, the junior member of the firm, and his cashier, Frank Moseley, to write him out a check for $10,416. He then made them swear not to follow him or raise an outcry.

After he left they informed police headquarters and two detectives caught him trying to cash the check in a bank. The $10,416 which McFarland attempted to collect is said to be the amount due McFarland in consequence of a sale of horses to the De Four Commission company, which deal had been returned to Newgass & Son. McFarland is said to have feared he would come out loser in the transfer.

ORDER RESTORED IN CRETE.

Muslims Allowed Houses of Christians to Be Pillaged.

CANDIA, Island of Crete, Sept. 9.—A detachment of international troops, which arrived here yesterday, occupied the fortifications and restored order.

It is now estimated that 200 persons were killed during the rioting. The Mussulman troops protected the Christians placed under their care, but they did not attempt to prevent the pillage of Christian houses, which continued until the international troops arrived.

WELLSVILLE.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY

Creates Intense Excitement In Wellsville.

THREE PISTOL SHOTS WERE FIRED

But None Took Effect—It Is Said the Trouble Grew Out of an Old Political Feud—Time For the Hearing Is Not Set.

Wellsville was in a high state of excitement last night when a report became current that a shooting affray had taken place on Main street, with the result that Frank E. Lowery was at the point of death from a pistol wound inflicted by William Cornelius.

A NEWS REVIEW reporter soon reached the scene, and found that, as usual, the matter had been greatly exaggerated, and no one was hurt, although shots had been fired. The story secured from a witness of the affair is as follows:

There had been bad blood between Cornelius and Lowery for some time, despite the intercession of friends for a peaceful settlement. About 8 o'clock last night Lowery, with his wife and son, Ralph, were sitting on the steps in front of their home when Cornelius came directly across the street. He asked for Mr. Lowery, who replied from the inside of the house, where he had went, anticipating trouble, "You had better go home and stay there and not be seeking trouble, or you'll get it." Cornelius drew his revolver and fired three shots in quick succession. One of the bullets passed through Lowery's coat, and lodged among a pack of letters in his breast pocket. Another shot wrecked the works of a clock on the mantel, and a search for the third was unrewarded.

Meantime Lowery, who was also armed, drew his revolver and tried to get a chance at Cornelius, but his wife and son, and his brother, W. E. Lowery, and Wilbur Simpson, who were attracted by the shooting, were directly in the way, and he could not fire without injuring them.

After the third shot Cornelius walked up Main to Sixth street, and going out toward the river turned up the alley, at D. Manist's residence, and later boarded a car for East Liverpool. By this time the officers were in pursuit.

Cornelius arrived in Liverpool and gave instructions as to printing on hand in the NEWS REVIEW job room, where he is employed, and went to the Cleveland and Pittsburg station where he took the 1:30 train for Wellsville. He would not talk for publication, and when a reporter called upon him this morning stated that the trouble arose from an old political feud, and further he had nothing to say, being instructed by his lawyer to talk to no one.

The mayor being absent from the city the time for a hearing has not been set. This will probably be waived by Cornelius and Bond furnished for appearance at Lisbon. Considerable excitement was occasioned when the news reached this city, as Mr. Cornelius counts his friends by the hundreds, and is known as a peaceful citizen and a steady, industrious workman. If the matter comes to trial there may be startling developments of which the public knows nothing.

The News of Wellsville.

A surprise party will be held in honor of Samuel Adams this evening at his residence, east of town.

The many friends of our soldier boy, Harry Smith, are pleased to learn that at last he is beginning to improve. He has been able to obtain sleep for two nights, the lack of which was against his recovery.

There will be a festival held tonight at Oak Ridge church.

An unoccupied house belonging to George Mick in the Scotch settlement has been visited by some miscreants who broke windows and otherwise abused the property. It will go hard with them if Constable Cameron finds the guilty parties.

A window in a local grocery is attracting considerable attention. One of the soldier boys has placed his collection of relics on exhibition, the most gruesome of which is a section of the spinal column of a Spaniard, secured after the flesh had been devoured by vultures. The collection is large and highly prized by the owner.

Finished Their Work.

The force of men who have been working on the Wellsville road yesterday completed the guards at the Brady cut. The guards have long been needed and it is a wonder that a serious accident has not taken place at the culvert, as it has been unprotected for several months.

Teachers Will Meet.

The last teachers' meeting before the opening of the new school term will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the high school room of the Central building and Superintendent Rayman is of the opinion that almost every teacher in the city will be present. Room has been reserved for those interested in school work who are not teachers.

Baseball.

Winnie Mercer yesterday played a very poor game in middle field for the Washington team making one putout and two errors. He failed to get his usual hit.

A number of the local ball players will tomorrow go to New Cumberland to assist that team in their game with Toronto.

On the River.

The river rose some during the night, and as a result the marks at the wharf this morning registered 2.9 feet. It is possible that some of the light draught boats will be able to get up Sunday.

Considerable freight is now at the wharf awaiting shipment to the south. The first boat that goes down will receive some big business from this place.

Wants a List.

Mrs. J. N. Taylor, president of the Red Cross society, is anxious to secure the name and address of each member of Company E that returned to the city yesterday. The list is desired by the society for future use.

OARS FOR ALL NAVIES.

Devall Bluffs, Ark., Has Furnished Them at Times For the World's Fleets.

Devall Bluffs, a little town in the lumber region of Arkansas, furnishes oars for the navies of the world. There are other oars than those made in Arkansas in use on men-of-war, but Devall Bluffs people have the honor of having made the oars which propel the small boats in the French and Italian navies at present, and at various times during the history of "the Bluffs" the oar factory there has furnished oars for the other big navies of the world. An Arkansas statesman, commenting on the resources of his state, said:

"If you happen to be something of a globe trotter, take heed when next you see a boat lowered from a French or Italian man-of-war, and as the crystal drops shower from the oar blades you may note beneath the fine, firm grain of Arkansas or Missouri ash. Charles Wells, the Devall Bluffs manufacturer, confesses his inability to remember how far back in the past the industry dates, but to his grandsire belongs the honor of first shaping oars by machinery, and the Wells oars were recognized as the standard of excellence long before the need of a closer timber supply brought about the establishment of works in America. At one time or another every navy in the world has had oars from Devall Bluffs.

"The oar factory regularly employs about 50 hands, and having its own electric lighting plant can work night shifts when crowded with orders. Its ordinary output is some 250 pieces in a ten hour run, including oars of all lengths, from 6½ to 24 feet. A good share of its finished product is placed through its English branches in London, Liverpool and Glasgow, but a vast demand is supplied from the factory direct. The salmon fisheries of the Pacific coast furnish a good market, and the Wells brand of oars is not unknown on the Atlantic seaboard of the states and provinces. Foreign countries are large purchasers, large shipments go regularly to New England, while for years past the French and Italian navies have annually placed large orders with the factory, the requirements of the two countries being practically the same with regard to specifications and models. France's order for the present year aggregates 5,200 pieces, or about the same as in years past."—Louisville Post.

THE KAISER'S CHURCH.

Fine Sanctuary in Jerusalem.

Toward the close of September Emperor William of Germany will go to Jerusalem, where he will dedicate the now almost completed Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Saviour, and where he will lay the cornerstone of the German hospital, school and parsonage. The emperor goes as the friend of the sultan, and it is said that as a special mark of esteem his majesty will be presented with the site of the last supper by the ruler of Turkey. At any rate it may be safely concluded that the emperor's visit and friendly relations with the sultan will greatly facilitate the contemplated works of excavation, which will be conducted under the auspices of the German Exploration society, an organization in which the emperor is deeply interested. One of his pet schemes is to settle the disputes of Biblical scholars as to the exact sites of the most important occurrences in the life of our Lord.

The Church of Our Saviour at Jerusalem is a most gorgeous structure, having been erected at a cost of nearly $300,000. The emperor has contributed the greater part of the cost of the building, while loyal Protestants from all over the fatherland have sent money and various articles of church furniture. The kaiser has some plans for a better understanding between Mohammedans and Christians.—New York Journal

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had perforce to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

The Firecracker.

The firecracker so extensively used by Americans in celebrating Independence day is a Chinese invention and is supposed to have been used in China in prehistoric times as universally as it is now used in the Flowery Kingdom upon nearly all ceremonious occasions. Its original use is supposed to have been to frighten away evil spirits, and in some parts of the Celestial empire it is still regarded as an effective weapon against ghosts and hobgoblins.

WELLSVILLE.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY

Creates Intense Excitement In Wellsville.

THREE PISTOL SHOTS WERE FIRED

But None Took Effect—It Is Said the Trouble Grew Out of an Old Political Feud—Time For the Hearing Is Not Set.

Wellsville was in a high state of excitement last night when a report became current that a shooting affray had taken place on Main street, with the result that Frank E. Lowery was at the point of death from a pistol wound inflicted by William Cornelius.

A NEWS REVIEW reporter soon reached the scene, and found that, as usual, the matter had been greatly exaggerated, and no one was hurt, although shots had been fired. The story secured from a witness of the affair is as follows:

There had been bad blood between Cornelius and Lowery for some time, despite the intercession of friends for a peaceful settlement. About 8 o'clock last night Lowery, with his wife and son, Ralph, were sitting on the steps in front of their home when Cornelius came directly across the street. He asked for Mr. Lowery, who replied from the inside of the house, where he had went, anticipating trouble, "You had better go home and stay there and not be seeking trouble, or you'll get it." Cornelius drew his revolver and fired three shots in quick succession. One of the bullets passed through Lowery's coat, and lodged among a pack of letters in his breast pocket. Another shot wrecked the works of a clock on the mantel, and a search for the third was unrewarded.

Meantime Lowery, who was also armed, drew his revolver and tried to get a chance at Cornelius, but his wife and son, and his brother, W. E. Lowery, and Wilbur Simpson, who were attracted by the shooting, were directly in the way, and he could not fire without injuring them.

After the third shot Cornelius walked up Main to Sixth street, and going out toward the river turned up the alley, at D. Manist's residence, and later boarded a car for East Liverpool. By this time the officers were in pursuit.

Cornelius arrived in Liverpool and gave instructions as to printing on hand in the NEWS REVIEW job room, where he is employed, and went to the Cleveland and Pittsburg station where he took the 1:30 train for Wellsville. He would not talk for publication, and when a reporter called upon him this morning stated that the trouble arose from an old political feud, and further he had nothing to say, being instructed by his lawyer to talk to no one.

The mayor being absent from the city the time for a hearing has not been set. This will probably be waived by Cornelius and bond furnished for appearance at Lisbon. Considerable excitement was occasioned when the news reached this city, as Mr. Cornelius counts his friends by the hundreds, and is known as a peaceful citizen and a steady, industrious workman. If the matter comes to trial there may be startling developments of which the public knows nothing.

The News of Wellsville.

A surprise party will be held in honor of Samuel Adams this evening at his residence, east of town.

The many friends of our soldier boy, Harry Smith, are pleased to learn that at last he is beginning to improve. He has been able to obtain sleep for two nights, the lack of which was against his recovery.

There will be a festival held tonight at Oak Ridge church.

An unoccupied house belonging to George Mick in the Scotch settlement has been visited by some miscreants who broke windows and otherwise abused the property. It will go hard with them if Constable Cameron finds the guilty parties.

A window in a local grocery is attracting considerable attention. One of the soldier boys has placed his collection of relics on exhibition, the most gruesome of which is a section of the spinal column of a Spaniard, secured after the flesh had been devoured by vultures. The collection is large and highly prized by the owner.

Finished Their Work.

The force of men who have been working on the Wellsville road yesterday

completed the guards at the Brady cut. The guards have long been needed and it is a wonder that a serious accident has not taken place at the culvert, as it has been unprotected for several months.

Teachers Will Meet.

The last teachers' meeting before the opening of the new school term will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the high school room of the Central building and Superintendent Rayman is of the opinion that almost every teacher in the city will be present. Room has been reserved for those interested in school work who are not teachers.

Baseball.

Winnie Mercer yesterday played a very poor game in middle field for the Washington team making one putout and two errors. He failed to get his usual hit.

A number of the local ball players will tomorrow go to New Cumberland to assist that team in their game with Toronto.

On the River.

The river rose some during the night, and as a result the marks at the wharf this morning registered 2.9 feet. It is possible that some of the light draught boats will be able to get up Sunday.

Considerable freight is now at the wharf awaiting shipment to the south. The first boat that goes down will receive some big business from this place.

There are other oars than those made in Arkansas in use on men-of-war, but Devall Bluffs people have the honor of having made the oars which propel the small boats in the French and Italian navies at present, and at various times during the history of "the Bluffs" the oar factory there has furnished oars for the other big navies of the world. An Arkansas statesman, commenting on the resources of his state, said:

"If you happen to be something of a globe trotter, take heed when next you see a boat lowered from a French or Italian man-of-war, and as the crystal drops shower from the oar blades you may note beneath the fine, firm grain of Arkansas or Missouri ash. Charles Wells, the Devall Bluffs manufacturer, confesses his inability to remember how far back in the past the industry dates, but to his grandsire belongs the honor of first shaping oars by machinery, and the Wells oars were recognized as the standard of excellence long before the need of a closer timber supply brought about the establishment of works in America. At one time or another every navy in the world has had oars from Devall Bluffs.

"The oar factory regularly employs about 50 hands, and having its own electric lighting plant can work night shifts when crowded with orders. Its ordinary output is some 250 pieces in a ten hour run, including oars of all lengths, from 6½ to 24 feet. A good share of its finished product is placed through its English branches in London, Liverpool and Glasgow, but a vast demand is supplied from the factory direct. The salmon fisheries of the Pacific coast furnish a good market, and the Wells brand of oars is not unknown on the Atlantic seaboard of the states and provinces. Foreign countries are large purchasers, large shipments go regularly to New England, while for years past the French and Italian navies have annually placed large orders with the factory, the requirements of the two countries being practically the same with regard to specifications and models. France's order for the present year aggregates 5,200 pieces, or about the same as in years past."—Louisville Post.

THE KAISER'S CHURCH.

Fine Sanctuary in Jerusalem.

Toward the close of September Emperor William of Germany will go to Jerusalem, where he will dedicate the now almost completed Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Saviour, and where he will lay the cornerstone of the German hospital, school and parsonage. The emperor goes as the friend of the sultan, and it is said that as a special mark of esteem his majesty will be presented with the site of the last supper by the ruler of Turkey. At any rate it may be safely concluded that the emperor's visit and friendly relations with the sultan will greatly facilitate the contemplated works of excavation, which will be conducted under the auspices of the German Exploration society, an organization in which the emperor is deeply interested. One of his pet schemes is to settle the disputes of Biblical scholars as to the exact sites of the most important occurrences in the life of our Lord.

The Church of Our Saviour at Jerusalem is a most gorgeous structure, having been erected at a cost of nearly $300,000. The emperor has contributed the greater part of the cost of the building, while loyal Protestants from all over the fatherland have sent money and various articles of church furniture. The kaiser has some plans for a better understanding between Mohammedans and Christians.—New York Journal

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had perforce to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

The Firecracker.

The firecracker so extensively used by Americans in celebrating Independence day is a Chinese invention and is supposed to have been used in China in prehistoric times as universally as it is now used in the Flowery Kingdom upon nearly all ceremonious occasions. Its original use is supposed to have been to frighten away evil spirits, and in some parts of the Celestial empire it is still regarded as an effective weapon against ghosts and hobgoblins.

THE SECOND U.P. CHURCH

A Brief History of Its Remarkable Progress

AS TOLD BY DR. J. C. TAGGART

Like the Fruit Tree in the Orchard Which sprang From a Tiny Seed Was the Growth of This Church—The First Services Held in a Cooper Shop.

A brief history of the origin of the Second United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, Ohio.

"I have been asked to give a brief history of the beginnings of this congregation which, in doing the Lord's work, has found it necessary to have a larger and more commodious house of worship, with an account of the building of the chapel which, having served its purpose has given place for the house whose corner stone we meet to lay today.

"It is pleasant and stimulating to study the beginnings of successful enterprises. In doing so we often find that the most useful and permanent spring from that which at first may seem small and unimportant. The river flowing through the valley with its rich and varied blessings to the surrounding country is found when we trace it to its source to start from some little spring or well on the mountain side, gathering in volume, in its onward course, from various sources till it becomes a wide and mighty stream. So with our congregations, strong as they may be in numbers and influence, their beginnings are usually small, originating in weak and humble efforts.

"The fruit tree in the orchard or the magnificent shade tree in the lawn, sprang from a little seed planted in the ground. The shoot that sprang from the seed may have been transplanted and have gathered strength and vigor by the culture it thus received, but its life began in the sprouting of the little seed. We may not know when the seed from which this goodly tree which we believe is of God's own nurture was first planted, but we believe that the influences which led on to the organization of this church had their origin largely in services which for several years previous had been held somewhat regularly in the school house of the Neville institute, a mile or more east of this. Some families of the parent church living near this school house, it was the custom of the pastor to frequently preach there on Sabbath afternoons or evenings. A prayer meeting on a week night, with the study of the Bible lesson for the next Sabbath, was also held for some time.

"These meetings, besides the blessing they brought to those attending them, created an interest in mission work, so that when the town began to grow in what was then called Ohio City, now known as East End, it was felt that something should be done to meet the religious needs of those who were so far separated from the churches of the city. This led to the organization of Sabbath school work there in the summer of 1881. The first session of the school and the first preaching service were held in a cooper shop owned by a Mr. Walters. This affording but poor accommodation, a subscription was raised for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a chapel. The parent church was still largely in debt for their house of worship erected a few years before, and many thought that we should wait till clear of debt before erecting another church. But so earnestly did others think that an opportunity was opened up for mission work in this part of the city these objections were not permitted to stand in the way. A good portion of the subscriptions was in the way of contributions of labor and material given by those interested in the enterprise who did not feel able to give a money contribution. The original lot cost $200 and the building about $900 more. Of this about $400 remained as a debt, which was assumed and paid by the trustees of the church. So that the chapel was given to the church at its organization free of debt.

"The chapel was opened Oct. 23, 1881, with a sermon by the pastor on the text, 'For the love of Christ constraineth us,' II Corinthians v, 14. A Sabbath school was organized, meeting on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock. The first superintendent was Mr. John G. Quay, who held that position till the close of 1884. He was succeeded by Mr. J. C. McClain, who was superintendent for two years, when Mr. Quay resumed the position for the year 1887.

such faithful work in both superintending and teaching, the names of the following, who lived outside the bounds of the Sabbath school should be mentioned on account of the help they gave at various times in the way of teaching: Messrs. Alex McGraw, D. A. Mackintosh, W. H. Gaston, Joseph A. Quay, Alex. Quay and William Glenn.

"In addition to the Sabbath school, which from the first was carried on with vigor and efficiency, there was a preaching service about once a month, and during a good part of the time a weekly prayer meeting.

"During the year 1887 the number of members in this part of the congregation having increased, and this part of our city building up rapidly it was felt that more preaching in the chapel was needed than could be done by the pastor, so a stated supply was engaged for the first quarter of 1888. At the meeting of the presbytery of Steubenville in December, 1887 the session made application for the organization of a second church. This was granted, and the pastor and session of the First church were appointed to effect the organization at their convenience.

"The Rev. A. K. Knox, a licentiate of

The first session meeting was held April 2, 1888, with Rev. J. C. Taggart, Rev. A. K. Knox, and Messrs. George Thompson, Charles Hanley, Frank White, F. L. Andrews and J. G. Quay present.

After the pastorate had been consummated the first list of Sabbath school officers and teachers was as follows: T. J. Andrews, Sr., superintendent; D. F. White, assistant superintendent; John C. Hanley, secretary; George L. Thompson, treasurer; teachers, Messrs. A. K. Knox, Charles Hanley, D. F. White, E. E. Chambers, F. L. Andrews, and Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Mrs. Dallas and Mrs. Hall.

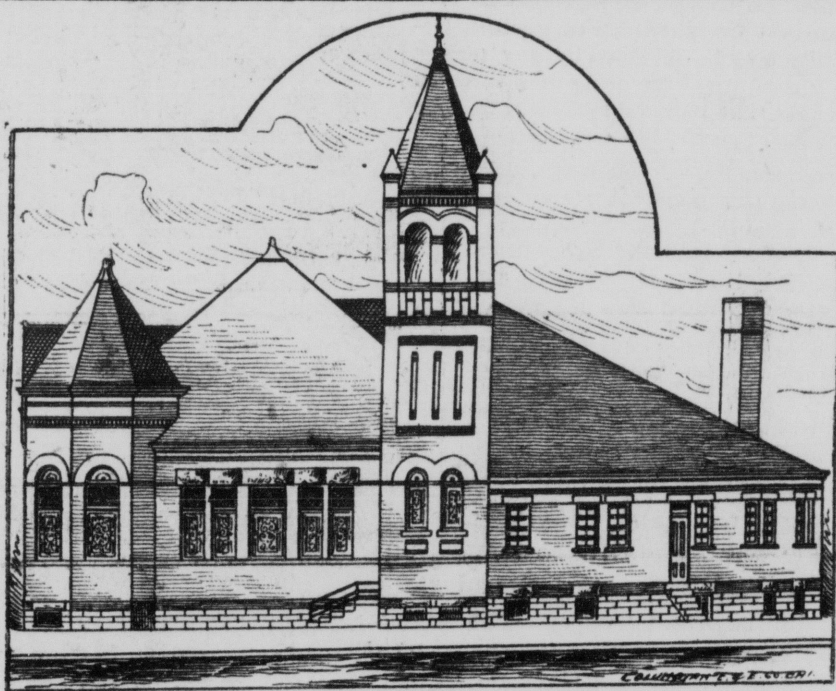

During the pastorate of Rev. A. K. Knox there were 142 accessions to the membership of the church, 72 by profession of their faith in Christ as their Saviour and 70 by certificate from other churches.

The pastorate of the present minister (Rev. J. R. Greene) began April 1, 1895, he serving as stated supply till the time of his ordination and installation, June 11, 1895, or three years and three months ago. During that time there have been 42 infant baptisms and 20 adults and 20 deaths. Of the deaths, two were elders—Geo. L. Thompson and Milton Ralston—two baptized members, Ralph White and Hubert D. Weeks.

The superintendents of the Sabbath school have been E. A. Stevenson, H. A. Weeks, D. F. White, J. B. Elliott and E. A. Stevenson for the second time. The number of pupils has increased from 147 to 175, and the average attendance from 80 to 110.

There have been 14 communions during the present pastorate and 400 sermons preached, including funerals. Three hundred of these sermons were preached by the pastor.

Some two years ago it became evident to some of the members that in the near future an effort would be necessary to build a new church. The Women's Missionary society made the start and

Wheeling presbytery, was secured as stated supply, and commenced his labors on the fourth Sabbath, 22d of January, 1888. The congregation was organized the 15th of the next March with a membership of 47. Forty of these were by certificate from the First church and seven by profession of their faith, four of whom received the ordinance of baptism.

"So acceptable were the labors of Mr. Knox that on the 8th day of April, only a little more than two weeks after the organization of the church, a unanimous call was extended to him to become their pastor. This call was sustained by presbytery and accepted by the brother the next week, the organization of the church and the calling of the pastor being reported to the same meeting of presbytery.

"The ordination and installation of the pastor occurred at the meeting of presbytery in June.

"Thus did this congregation, the child of many prayers, and the fruit of much earnest and faithful work, enter upon its mission as a separate and fully equipped church.

"That it may long continue in its work, and that many through it may be gathered into the kingdom of our Lord and fitted for His service here and His Glory hereafter, is the earnest prayer of him who writes this brief history of its beginnings.

THE SECOND U. P. CHURCH

A Brief History of Its Remarkable Progress

AS TOLD BY DR. J. C. TAGGART

Like the Fruit Tree in the Orchard Which sprang From a Tiny Seed Was the Growth of This Church—The First Services Held in a Cooper Shop.

A brief history of the origin of the Second United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, Ohio.

"I have been asked to give a brief history of the beginnings of this congregation which, in doing the Lord's work, has found it necessary to have a larger and more commodious house of worship, with an account of the building of the chapel which, having served its purpose has given place for the house whose corner stone we meet to lay today.

"It is pleasant and stimulating to study the beginnings of successful enterprises. In doing so we often find that the most useful and permanent spring from that which at first may seem small and unimportant. The river flowing through the valley with its rich and varied blessings to the surrounding country is found when we trace it to its source to start from some little spring or well on the mountain side, gathering in volume, in its onward course, from various sources till it becomes a wide and mighty stream. So with our congregations, strong as they may be in numbers and influence, their beginnings are usually small, originating in weak and humble efforts.

"The fruit tree in the orchard or the magnificent shade tree in the lawn, sprang from a little seed planted in the ground. The shoot that sprang from the seed may have been transplanted and have gathered strength and vigor by the culture it thus received, but its life began in the sprouting of the little seed. We may not know when the seed from which this goodly tree which we believe is of God's own nurture was first planted, but we believe that the influences which led on to the organization of this church had their origin largely in services which for several years previous had been held somewhat regularly in the school house of the Neville institute, a mile or more east of this. Some families of the parent church living near this school house, it was the custom of the pastor to frequently preach there on Sabbath afternoons or evenings. A prayer meeting on a week night, with the study of the Bible lesson for the next Sabbath, was also held for some time.

"These meetings, besides the blessing they brought to those attending them, created an interest in mission work, so that when the town began to grow in what was then called Ohio City, now known as East End, it was felt that something should be done to meet the religious needs of those who were so far separated from the churches of the city. This led to the organization of Sabbath school work there in the summer of 1881. The first session of the school and the first preaching service were held in a cooper shop owned by a Mr. Walters. This affording but poor accommodation, a subscription was raised for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a chapel. The parent church was still largely in debt for their house of worship erected a few years before, and many thought that we should wait till clear of debt before erecting another church. But so earnestly did others think that an opportunity was opened up for mission work in this part of the city these objections were not permitted to stand in the way. A good portion of the subscriptions was in the way of contributions of labor and material given by those interested in the enterprise who did not feel able to give a money contribution. The original lot cost $200 and the building about $900 more. Of this about $400 remained as a debt, which was assumed and paid by the trustees of the church. So that the chapel was given to the church at its organization free of debt.

"The chapel was opened Oct. 23, 1881, with a sermon by the pastor on the text, 'For the love of Christ constraineth us,' II Corinthians v, 14. A Sabbath school was organized, meeting on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock. The first superintendent was Mr. John G. Quay, who held that position till the close of 1884. He was succeeded by Mr. J. C. McClain, who was superintendent for two years, when Mr. Quay resumed the position for the year 1887.

such faithful work in both superintending and teaching, the names of the following, who lived outside the bounds of the Sabbath school should be mentioned on account of the help they gave at various times in the way of teaching: Messrs. Alex McGraw, D. A. Mackintosh, W. H. Gaston, Joseph A. Quay, Alex. Quay and William Glenn.

"In addition to the Sabbath school, which from the first was carried on with vigor and efficiency, there was a preaching service about once a month, and during a good part of the time a weekly prayer meeting.

"During the year 1887 the number of members in this part of the congregation having increased, and this part of our city building up rapidly it was felt that more preaching in the chapel was needed than could be done by the pastor, so a stated supply was engaged for the first quarter of 1888. At the meeting of the presbytery of Steubenville in December, 1887 the session made application for the organization of a second church. This was granted, and the pastor and session of the First church were appointed to effect the organization at their convenience.

"The Rev. A. K. Knox, a licentiate of

The first session meeting was held April 2, 1888, with Rev. J. C. Taggart, Rev. A. K. Knox, and Messrs. George Thompson, Charles Hanley, Frank White, F. L. Andrews and J. G. Quay present.

After the pastorate had been consummated the first list of Sabbath school officers and teachers was as follows: T. J. Andrews, Sr., superintendent; D. F. White, assistant superintendent; John C. Hanley, secretary; George L. Thompson, treasurer; teachers, Messrs. A. K. Knox, Charles Hanley, D. F. White, E. E. Chambers, F. L. Andrews, and Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Mrs. Dallas and Mrs. Hall.

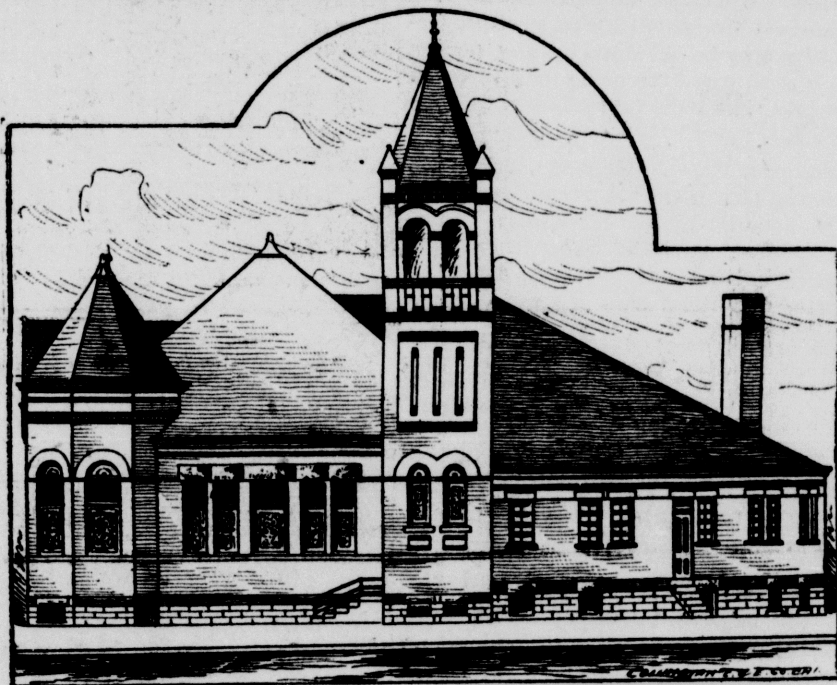

During the pastorate of Rev. A. K. Knox there were 142 accessions to the membership of the church, 72 by profession of their faith in Christ as their Saviour and 70 by certificate from other churches.

The pastorate of the present minister (Rev. J. R. Greene) began April 1, 1895, he serving as stated supply till the time of his ordination and installation, June 11, 1895, or three years and three months ago. During that time there have been 42 infant baptisms and 20 adults and 20 deaths. Of the deaths, two were elders—Geo. L. Thompson and Milton Ralston—two baptized members, Ralph White and Hubert D. Weeks.

The superintendents of the Sabbath school have been E. A. Stevenson, H. A. Weeks, D. F. White, J. B. Elliott and E. A. Stevenson for the second time. The number of pupils has increased from 147 to 175, and the average attendance from 80 to 110.

There have been 14 communions during the present pastorate and 400 sermons preached, including funerals. Three hundred of these sermons were preached by the pastor.

Some two years ago it became evident to some of the members that in the near future an effort would be necessary to build a new church. The Women's Missionary society made the start and

ERNEST BURROWS DEAD

A Well Known Liverpool Boy Loses His Life

WHILE SERVING HIS COUNTRY

Enlisted as a Private in a Louisiana Regiment When the War Broke Out and Was Stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.—The Remains Will Be Brought Here.

Another East Liverpool boy who went forth to serve his country in the war with Spain has been called to his last reward.

Mrs. Henry DeTemple, of Trentvale street, last evening received a telegram from Jacksonville, Fla., announcing the death of Ernest Burrows, a private in Company H, Second Louisiana Volunteer Infantry, Captain Cooper commanding.

The body was ordered sent to this city, and is expected to arrive not later than Monday noon.

Private Burrows was a resident of the city for a number of years, and was well and favorably known. For years he was employed in the packing shed of the Thompson pottery, and was seriously injured in an accident on the railroad near the pottery. He entered suit against the railroad company, and was awarded damages to the amount of $3,000, but the case was afterwards compromised. He was prominently identified with the Young Men's Christian association when it was first instituted.

When the war broke out he was working in the south and was among the first to enlist when the call for volunteers was made.

The interment will be made in River-view cemetery, but the arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

A Toronto Member of Company E Stranded In the City.

Yesterday when Company E arrived in the city they had with them one of their members who was from Toronto. He had no funds, and as his transportation was only furnished to this city he had no means of getting home as there was no one here to meet him. He wandered around the city for some time, but finally his story became known, and in less time than it takes to tell it his fare was paid and he was sent on his way rejoicing.

I am desirous of securing a picture of each member of Company E, and request that they call at my studio, Syndicate building, Sixth street, in regulation or canvas uniform, and have their photos taken. A picture will be given to each soldier for their trouble.

The Awkwardness of Being a Prince.

The Prince of Wales is placed by fate in the most difficult position of any English subject. Labeled incessantly, continuously and malignantly, silence is imposed on him by reasons of state. If he patronizes the drama, for the neglect of which the queen is persistently blamed, the prince is depicted as a trifler, who finds in the society of mummies relief from the tedium of a wasted life. If he encourages our national sports, he is a profligate and is compared with royal predecessors, whose conduct would certainly not commend itself today even to the staunchest supporters of monarchy. If he does not lavish money he does not possess, he is said to be stingy. If he makes an outlay on a church at Sandringham or a ball at Marlborough House, he is a spendthrift. Unworthy friendships are attributed to him with men upon whom he has never set eyes or with whom he may perhaps have exchanged a casual word. If he plays a game of cards, he is a gambler.

Fierce as is the light that beats upon a throne, the cruel and searching illumination of the prince's life inflicts on him the disabilities and responsibilities, while denying him either the power of the throne or the privileges of a private station.—Harper's Magazine.

The English Broom.

One of the botanical oddities of Massachusetts is the existence of the English broom, which grows in only two places—in Sterling, this county, and in Salem. It is not a native plant, and how it got across the water is a mystery. Perhaps some homesick colonist caused it to be sent to him, that the hills about his new home might have the familiar appearance of the old country. It is a beautiful golden yellow in color and grows in a compact, spirallike plant, with blossoms close together. So thick are the stalks that the pastures are like sheets of gold, and at first sight seem to be buttercups in masses. Arba Pierce brought some of it into the city and proposes to make a display of it at the exhibition of the horticultural society.

Every one has heard of the broom. English and Scotch literature is full of it. It was the flower of the royal house of Plantagenet. In fact, the name Plantagenet is the French for broom plant a genet. Their ancestor, the Count d'Anjou, wore a string of broom as a badge, therefore their name. The name broom is given it because of its usefulness for the purpose.—Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

Seeing the Sights.

Even in these days of liberal education young women sometimes show how confused are the ideas shut up in their heads. Illustrative of this is the naive blunder which Edmondo de Amicis recounts in his story of a voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres:

The captain of the steamer which numbered the charming young blunderer among its passengers met her one morning and said:

"Signorina, we cross the tropic of cancer today."

A Wedding Announcement.

This is how the editor of the Humboldt (Kan.) Herald recently announced his marriage: "Mr. F. A. McCarthy (that's us) and Miss Nannie Fisher (that's more of us) were united in marriage Wednesday, July 27, at 10 a. m. The ceremony was followed by a sumptuous repast, which we have only a faint recollection of. Some way events seemed to crowd on each other then, and God has given us the best earthly thing within his gift. The joy in a sweet wife is too great to be described—too sacred to be spoken of."

An African Mother-in-law.

A native has been committed to the high court for trial for mutilating his mother-in-law by cutting off her ear.

The native averred that his mother-in-law had attempted to entice her daughter away from him, her lawful husband, to some other native, and he took the extreme measure of cutting off her ear as a gentle hint to mind her own business.—Gwelo Times.

Hardships Endured by Soldiers.

The authorities of New York state are angry because the Third regiment, New York volunteers, was obliged to march from Camp Alger to Thoroughfare Gap. The men experienced a series of hardships which were unnecessary at least, according to the reports received.

The first day's march was conducted in the heat of the day, during which many of the men fell on the roadside from exhaustion. One died while on the march, and five as a result of it. In consequence of the nonarrival of the wagon train the men were without food for 24 hours succeeding their first day's march. On the third day they proceeded in a heavy rainstorm and without drinking water, the men being compelled to drink from the muddy pools along the road. These are but samples of what was experienced during that march.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

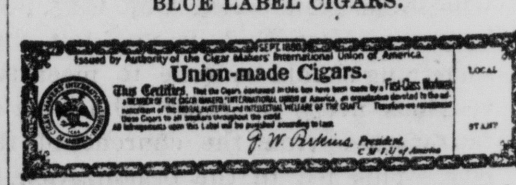

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants

BICYCLE LABEL.

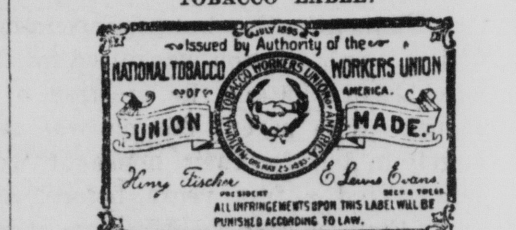

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

ERNEST BURROWS DEAD

A Well Known Liverpool Boy Loses His Life

WHILE SERVING HIS COUNTRY

Enlisted as a Private in a Louisiana Regiment When the War Broke Out and Was Stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.—The Remains Will Be Brought Here.

Another East Liverpool boy who went forth to serve his country in the war with Spain has been called to his last reward.

Mrs. Henry DeTemple, of Trentvale street, last evening received a telegram from Jacksonville, Fla., announcing the death of Ernest Burrows, a private in Company H, Second Louisiana Volunteer Infantry, Captain Cooper commanding.

The body was ordered sent to this city, and is expected to arrive not later than Monday noon.

Private Burrows was a resident of the city for a number of years, and was well and favorably known. For years he was employed in the packing shed of the Thompson pottery, and was seriously injured in an accident on the railroad near the pottery. He entered suit against the railroad company, and was awarded damages to the amount of $3,000, but the case was afterwards compromised. He was prominently identified with the Young Men's Christian association when it was first instituted.

When the war broke out he was working in the south and was among the first to enlist when the call for volunteers was made.

The interment will be made in River-view cemetery, but the arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

NO MONEY.

A Toronto Member of Company E Stranded in the City.

Yesterday when Company E arrived in the city they had with them one of their members who was from Toronto. He had no funds, and as his transportation was only furnished to this city he had no means of getting home as there was no one here to meet him. He wandered around the city for some time, but finally his story became known, and in less time than it takes to tell it his fare was paid and he was sent on his way rejoicing.

Company E, Attention!

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 8.

TO THE BOYS OF CO. E:

I am desirous of securing a picture of each member of Company E, and request that they call at my studio, Syndicate building, Sixth street, in regulation or canvas uniform, and have their photos taken. A picture will be given to each soldier for their trouble.

The Awkwardness of Being a Prince.

The Prince of Wales is placed by fate in the most difficult position of any English subject. Labeled incessantly, continuously and malignantly, silence is imposed on him by reasons of state. If he patronizes the drama, for the neglect of which the queen is persistently blamed, the prince is depicted as a trifler, who finds in the society of mummies relief from the tedium of a wasted life. If he encourages our national sports, he is a profligate and is compared with royal predecessors, whose conduct would certainly not commend itself today even to the staunchest supporters of monarchy. If he does not lavish money he does not possess, he is said to be stingy. If he makes an outlay on a church at Sandringham or a ball at Marlborough House, he is a spendthrift. Unworthy friendships are attributed to him with men upon whom he has never set eyes or with whom he may perhaps have exchanged a casual word. If he plays a game of cards, he is a gambler.

Fierce as is the light that beats upon a throne, the cruel and searching illumination of the prince's life inflicts on him the disabilities and responsibilities, while denying him either the power of the throne or the privileges of a private station.—Harper's Magazine.

The English Broom.

One of the botanical oddities of Massachusetts is the existence of the English broom, which grows in only two places—in Sterling, this county, and in Salem. It is not a native plant, and how it got across the water is a mystery. Perhaps some homesick colonist caused it to be sent to him, that the hills about his new home might have the familiar appearance of the old country. It is a beautiful golden yellow in color and grows in a compact, spirelike plant, with blossoms close together. So thick are the stalks that the pastures are like sheets of gold, and at first sight seem to be buttercups in masses. Arba Pierce brought some of it into the city and proposes to make a display of it at the exhibition of the horticultural society.

Every one has heard of the broom. English and Scotch literature is full of it. It was the flower of the royal house of Plantagenet. In fact, the name Plantagenet is the French for broom plant a genet. Their ancestor, the Count d'Anjou, wore a string of broom as a badge, therefore their name. The name broom is given it because of its usefulness for the purpose.—Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had performed to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

Seeing the Sights.

Even in these days of liberal education young women sometimes show how confused are the ideas shut up in their heads. Illustrative of this is the naive blunder which Edmondo de Amicis recounts in his story of a voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres:

The captain of the steamer which numbered the charming young blunderer among its passengers met her one morning and said:

"Signorina, we cross the tropic of cancer today."

A Well Known Liverpool Boy
Loses His Life

WHILE SERVING HIS COUNTRY

Enlisted as a Private in a Louisiana Regiment When the War Broke Out and Was Stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.—The Remains Will Be Brought Here.

Another East Liverpool boy who went forth to serve his country in the war with Spain has been called to his last reward.

Mrs. Henry DeTemple, of Trentvale street, last evening received a telegram from Jacksonville, Fla., announcing the death of Ernest Burrows, a private in Company H, Second Louisiana Volunteer infantry, Captain Cooper commanding.

The body was ordered sent to this city, and is expected to arrive not later than Monday noon.

Private Burrows was a resident of the city for a number of years, and was well and favorably known. For years he was employed in the packing shed of the Thompson pottery, and was seriously injured in an accident on the railroad near the pottery. He entered suit against the railroad company, and was awarded damages to the amount of $3,000, but the case was afterwards compromised. He was prominently identified with the Young Men's Christian association when it was first instituted.

When the war broke out he was working in the south and was among the first to enlist when the call for volunteers was made.

The interment will be made in River-view cemetery, but the arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

NO MONEY.

A Toronto Member of Company E Stranded in the City.

Yesterday when Company E arrived in the city they had with them one of their members who was from Toronto. He had no funds, and as his transportation was only furnished to this city he had no means of getting home as there was no one here to meet him. He wandered around the city for some time, but finally his story became known, and in less time than it takes to tell it his fare was paid and he was sent on his way rejoicing.

Company E, Attention!

TO THE BOYS OF CO. E:

I am desirous of securing a picture of each member of Company E, and request that they call at my studio, Syndicate building, Sixth street, in regulation or canvas uniform, and have their photos taken. A picture will be given to each soldier for their trouble.

The Awkwardness of Being a Prince.

The Prince of Wales is placed by fate in the most difficult position of any English subject. Labeled incessantly, continuously and malignantly, silence is imposed on him by reasons of state. If he patronizes the drama, for the neglect of which the queen is persistently blamed, the prince is depicted as a trifle, who finds in the society of mummies relief from the tedium of a wasted life. If he encourages our national sports, he is a profligate and is compared with royal predecessors, whose conduct would certainly not commend itself today even to the staunchest supporters of monarchy. If he does not lavish money he does not possess, he is said to be stingy. If he makes an outlay on a church at Sandringham or a ball at Marlborough House, he is a spendthrift. Unworthy friendships are attributed to him with men upon whom he has never set eyes or with whom he may perhaps have exchanged a casual word. If he plays a game of cards, he is a gambler.

Pierce as is the light that beats upon a throne, the cruel and searching illumination of the prince's life inflicts on him the disabilities and responsibilities, while denying him either the power of the throne or the privileges of a private station.—Harper's Magazine.

The English Broom.

One of the botanical oddities of Massachusetts is the existence of the English broom, which grows in only two places—in Sterling, this county, and in Salem. It is not a native plant, and how it got across the water is a mystery. Perhaps some homesick colonist caused it to be sent to him, that the hills about his new home might have the familiar appearance of the old country. It is a beautiful golden yellow in color and grows in a compact, spirelike plant, with blossoms close together. So thick are the stalks that the pastures are like sheets of gold, and at first sight seem to be buttercups in masses. Arba Pierce brought some of it into the city and proposes to make a display of it at the exhibition of the horticultural society.

Every one has heard of the broom. English and Scotch literature is full of it. It was the flower of the royal house of Plantagenet. In fact, the name Plantagenet is the French for broom plant a genet. Their ancestor, the Count d'Anjou, wore a string of broom as a badge, therefore their name. The name broom is given it because of its usefulness for the purpose.—Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had perforce to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

Seeing the Sights.

Even in these days of liberal education young women sometimes show how confused are the ideas shut up in their heads. Illustrative of this is the naive blunder which Edmond de Amicis recounts in his story of a voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres:

The captain of the steamer which numbered the charming young blunderer among its passengers met her one morning and said:

"Signorina, we cross the tropic of cancer today."

A Wedding Announcement.

This is how the editor of the Humboldt (Kan.) Herald recently announced his marriage: "Mr. F. A. McCarthy (that's us) and Miss Nannie Fisher (that's more of us) were united in marriage Wednesday, July 27, at 10 a. m. The ceremony was followed by a sumptuous repast, which we have only a faint recollection of. Some way events seemed to crowd on each other then, and God has given us the best earthly thing within his gift. The joy in a sweet wife is too great to be described—too sacred to be spoken of."

An African Mother-in-law.

A native has been committed to the high court for trial for mutilating his mother-in-law by cutting off her ear.

The native averred that his mother-in-law had attempted to entice her daughter away from him, her lawful husband, to some other native, and he took the extreme measure of cutting off her ear as a gentle hint to mind her own business.—Gwelo Times.

Not Wanted.

"I have here," he began, "a little poem, the child of"—
"Sorry," interrupted the editor, "but I couldn't think of taking a child away from its parent."—Harlem Life.

Colorado is particularly inviting as a summer haven. The climate is remarkable for its invigorating effect, and the state is rich in grand scenery and points of interest where a vacation may be pleasantly spent. Special arrangements are being made for the entertainment of visitors who are this season expected to be attracted to the seclusion and quiet of the Rockies and the hills and canyons of that great wonderland.

Hardships Endured by Soldiers.

The authorities of New York state are angry because the Third regiment, New York volunteers, was obliged to march from Camp Alger to Thoroughfare Gap. The men experienced a series of hardships which were unnecessary at least, according to the reports received.

The first day's march was conducted in the heat of the day, during which many of the men fell on the roadside from exhaustion. One died while on the march, and five as a result of it. In consequence of the nonarrival of the wagon train the men were without food for 24 hours succeeding their first day's march. On the third day they proceeded in a heavy rainstorm and without drinking water, the men being compelled to drink from the muddy pools along the road. These are but samples of what was experienced during that march.

Summer Havens.

Illustrated information about America's popular summer resorts is being distributed by passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. It includes descriptions of leading places of summer sojourn along the coast, in the mountains of the east, and in the lake region and Northern Michigan, all of which are within easy reach over the Pennsylvania route. For copy please apply to the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or address your requests to J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent, Pittsburg, Pa.

FUNDS FOR A HOSPITAL

A Prominent Man Will Donate

THINKS IT SHOULD BE ENDOWED

With Enough Money to Keep It Free
From Debt, and at Least $20,000 Should
Be Raised Before a Site Is Purchased
and the Building Commenced.

That the city should have a hospital
is the opinion of a larger majority of the people, but they think it should be built by contributions and not by the city.

A prominent business man in speaking of the matter to a representative of the NEWS REVIEW said:

"I know where there is one man who is willing to donate $10,000 toward the erection of a hospital just as soon as the proper time arrives and he is convinced that such an institution can be maintained in the city.

"He thinks the hospital should be endowed with sufficient funds to keep it free from debt, and when some other person comes forth with a like donation
of $10,000, then a movement should be made toward purchasing a site and erecting a building.

"There is no doubt that a hospital
would not be self sustaining in the city,
for a few years at least, but with the assistance of contributions and the aid of the physicians it should be kept free
of debt. If ever a city needed a hospital this city does, as there is an unusually large number of young people working here who do not have their homes in the city and many lives would
be saved if given the proper attention."

Boucicault and His Hair.

Boucicault for a number of years used to dye the little fringe of hair he had, and it generally took on all the hues of the rainbow, much resembling Tittlebat Titmouse's experience in coloring his hair.

I was standing in front of the Union
Square theater one day after rehearsal
with the late Charles R. Thorne, Jr.,
and Joe Polk, writes Owen Fawcett,
and we were arguing the question who should "buy," when along came Boucicault, as chipper as ever. Of course he must stop, ask all the news and have a chat, for he was a most entertaining man and well worth listening to. On his preparing to leave Polk said, "Mr.
Boucicault, I do not wish to insult you,
but I wish to congratulate you on one thing."

"Not a bit of it, my boy," said
Boucy. "What is it, Polk?"

"I see that you have given over dyeing your hair or what little hair you
had, and you do not know how much better it makes you look."

"Yes," said Boucicault, "I have found out one thing, and that is in all the years I have been foolish enough to paint my hair I was only deceiving one person, and that one was myself. Good day, boys."—Detroit Free Press.

Spanish Cruelty.

The cruelty of the Spaniard, or rather his callousness, his recklessness of the lives of others, and even of his own, is a mediæval and oriental survival, says Irving Babbitt in The Atlantic, and then, too, there underlies the Spanish temperament I know not what vein of primitive Iberian savagery. Mme.
d'Aulnoy relates that on a certain day
of the year it was customary for court gallants to run along one of the main streets of Madrid, lashing furiously their bare shoulders, and when one of these penitents passed the lady of his choice among the spectators he bespattered her with his blood as a special
mark of his favor.

Insensibility to the suffering of animals, though general in Spain, is not any greater so far as my own observation goes, than in the other Latin countries. Possibly mediæval religion in so exalting man above other creatures, in refusing to recognize his relation to the rest of nature, tended to increase this lack of sympathy with brute creation.
The Spanish peasant belabors his ass for
the same reasons that Malebranche kicked his dog—because he has not learned to see in it a being organized to feel pain in the same way as himself.

Home Influences.

Each one of us is bound to make the little circle in which he lives better
and happier; each of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the widest good may flow; each of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out of a single household may flow influences which shall stimulate the whole
world.—Dean Stanley.

Warding Off Jealousy.

PROMINENT SANTIAGOANS DECLARE
THAT IT WILL BE INDEPENDENT.

Plenty of Educated and Cultured Men to Take Control—Need a Little Protection.
Spaniards and Cubans Agree That Nothing but Absolute Freedom Will Suffice.

With a view of gauging the exact feeling existent among the inhabitants of Santiago in regard to the annexation
of Cuba to the United States I have interviewed some of the most prominent men. I first called on Senor Lenardo Ros, ex-civil governor of the province of Santiago. He has for years been chief magistrate of the city, having been appointed mayor at the close of the Ten Years' war. He it was who resigned when General Shafter overruled
his dismissal of several of his pro-Spanish subordinates.

Senor Ros, though long resident in New York, is strongly in favor of the independence of Cuba, and has great faith in the stability of such a government under the protection of the United States, as England holds protectorate
over certain territories. "Thus capital would be invested with security and a strong influx of American and other emigrants would settle here under restricted emigration laws. With Spain's obnoxious tariffs removed and a complete reversal of her proscription policy, prosperity will soon return to the island.

"When the brunt of the rebellion so shook Spain's resources that Sagasta became forced to offer autonomy, it was a tacit recognition of the ability of the Cubans to govern themselves," added
the ex-governor. "By no means do I personally question America's motives,
but I can appreciate the hopes and fears
of the Cubans who have been in the field. War worn, ragged and hungry, their property confiscated, they have fought manfully for an ideal. It is small wonder then that they are apprehensive
for the future, for they have fought and are still ready to fight for their absolute independence."

One of General Toral's staff officers,
whose name I am asked not to mention,
General Hernandez de Velasco, said: "I doubt America's policy, and for the sake of the Cubans hope to see them
govern themselves, for, as the Spanish proverb says, 'Better ride your own horse badly than have another man ride him well.' If Cuba is annexed, it will be pure evidence that you Yankees have fostered the rebellion for your own ends
and are now grabbing what they helped fight for. Many Cubans have excellent education, and if the niggers get paid off the whites will soon form a government."

Mr. Mason, British consul at Santiago, is an ardent annexationist, and
as a business man fully realizes the advantages of a powerful government taking the reins. Some of the Spanish merchants also favor annexation now, but one shipping agent, who agreed with the rest that things would have been better under Spain, said he preferred
anything but American military control, that "seizes the wharfs and lighters, and even then cannot efficiently feed

its troops and gives no chance for merchants to land cargoes of food for which the citizens are dying with money in their pockets. I charge the military authorities with gross mismanagement, which is costing over 75 lives a day—persons who want nourishing food and find none to buy."

Dr. Caminero, the resident officer of the United States marine hospital service in Santiago, when asked if he thought the Cubans capable of self government replied strongly in the affirmative. "There are thousands of educated and respectable Cubans fully capable of self government, and with the educational facilities that will follow independence in a few years I feel a prosperous nation can arise speedily."

Senor Bory, a merchant and for 15 years Mexican consul, said: "I believe that a declaration of independence of this island is imperative and necessary
for the well being and contentment of the people. A government can be set up, and if the inhabitants should prove their inability to sustain it with wisdom or the leaders conduct themselves
imprudently the desire for annexation will gain ground in the hearts of the people, who now, as ever, are opposed to the idea."

Professor Miranda, a master of the institute and a learned resident of Santiago, is an ardent partisan of independence. "I have suffered for years,
as hundreds of others have suffered, for my political ideas. I have been imprisoned and persecuted for desiring independence, and oppression has strengthened my desire for freedom. Our mission has been for independence and will not
be accomplished until we achieve it.
We, who have felt the iron heel of Spain and seen our families perish by
the hand of brutal officers, our brothers executed or exiled, should feel exceedingly apprehensive as to how far the present misunderstanding with the United States will go in curtailing our future liberty, for which we have fought and will fight for until death,
come who may."

Dr. Rey, a graduate of an American college and having a large practice in Santiago, spoke very strongly against those who advocate the annexation of Cuba: "To ask me if the United States should now step in and forcibly annex
this island is to ask if a theft is or is not a desirable act. Before God and before man Cuba has dearly earned her independence, and we are ready to stand
to the last to achieve it."—George
Clarke Musgrave in New York Journal

Put to Flight.

This hero of the conflict was a man of valor
rare:
He'd face a battleship with frowning guns and
never care.
He quietly commanded and was instantly
obeyed,
And when the foemen saw him they were utterly dismayed.

His nerves would show no tremor in a shower
of shot and shell;
He kept his self possession as he struggled
long and well;
In all his life it never once occurred to him to run
Until they'd signed a protocol and said that war was done.

But in his quiet office, where he scanned his papers o'er,
A fearful pallor seized him when a sharp knock
shook the door
And the messenger politely handed him a lengthy list
Of the fair ones in the hallway who were waiting to be kissed.

With Enough Money to Keep It Free From Debt, and at Least $20,000 Should Be Raised Before a Site Is Purchased and the Building Commenced.

As a well known man was going to the station this morning the dog bit him on the right leg, but the bite was not deep enough to cause any trouble. The owner of the dog should see that it is killed immediately.

Boucicault and His Hair.

Boucicault for a number of years used to dye the little fringe of hair he had, and it generally took on all the hues of the rainbow, much resembling Tittlebat Titmouse's experience in coloring his hair.

I was standing in front of the Union Square theater one day after rehearsal with the late Charles R. Thorne, Jr., and Joe Polk, writes Owen Fawcett, and we were arguing the question who should "buy," when along came Boucicault, as chipper as ever. Of course he must stop, ask all the news and have a chat, for he was a most entertaining man and well worth listening to. On his preparing to leave Polk said, "Mr. Boucicault, I do not wish to insult you, but I wish to congratulate you on one thing."

"Not a bit of it, my boy," said Bouc. "What is it, Polk?"

"I see that you have given over dyeing your hair or what little hair you had, and you do not know how much better it makes you look."

"Yes," said Boucicault, "I have found out one thing, and that is in all the years I have been foolish enough to paint my hair I was only deceiving one person, and that one was myself. Good day, boys."—Detroit Free Press.

Spanish Cruelty.

The cruelty of the Spaniard, or rather his callousness, his recklessness of the lives of others, and even of his own, is a mediaeval and oriental survival, says Irving Babbitt in The Atlantic, and then, too, there underlies the Spanish temperament I know not what vein of primitive Iberian savagery. Mme. d'Aulnoy relates that on a certain day of the year it was customary for court gallants to run along one of the main streets of Madrid, lashing furiously their bare shoulders, and when one of these penitents passed the lady of his choice among the spectators he bespattered her with his blood as a special mark of his favor.

Insensibility to the suffering of animals, though general in Spain, is not any greater so far as my own observation goes, than in the other Latin countries. Possibly mediaeval religion in so exalting man above other creatures, in refusing to recognize his relation to the rest of nature, tended to increase this lack of sympathy with brute creation. The Spanish peasant belabors his ass for the same reasons that Malebranche kicked his dog—because he has not learned to see in it a being organized to feel pain in the same way as himself.

Home Influences.

Each one of us is bound to make the little circle in which he lives better and happier; each of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the widest good may flow; each of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out of a single household may flow influences which shall stimulate the whole commonwealth and the whole civilized world.—Dean Stanley.

Warding Off Jealousy.

Old Gotrocks (savagely)—What's that! You mean to tell me that you really love my daughter for herself alone?

Young Hardup (tremulously)—Y-yes, sir, but I think I could learn to love you, t-too, sir, in t-t-time, sir.—Vanity Fair.

PROMINENT SANTIAGOANS DECLARE THAT IT WILL BE INDEPENDENT.

Plenty of Educated and Cultured Men to Take Control—Need a Little Protection. Spaniards and Cubans Agree That Nothing but Absolute Freedom Will Suffice.

With a view of gauging the exact feeling existent among the inhabitants of Santiago in regard to the annexation of Cuba to the United States I have interviewed some of the most prominent men. I first called on Senor Lenardo Ros, ex-civil governor of the province of Santiago. He has for years been chief magistrate of the city, having been appointed mayor at the close of the Ten Years' war. He it was who resigned when General Shafter overruled his dismissal of several of his pro-Spanish subordinates.

Senor Ros, though long resident in New York, is strongly in favor of the independence of Cuba, and has great faith in the stability of such a government under the protection of the United States, as England holds protectorate over certain territories. "Thus capital would be invested with security and a strong influx of American and other emigrants would settle here under restricted emigration laws. With Spain's obnoxious tariffs removed and a complete reversal of her proscriptive policy, prosperity will soon return to the island."

"When the brunt of the rebellion so shook Spain's resources that Sagasta became forced to offer autonomy, it was a tacit recognition of the ability of the Cubans to govern themselves," added the ex-governor. "By no means do I personally question America's motives, but I can appreciate the hopes and fears of the Cubans who have been in the field. War worn, ragged and hungry, their property confiscated, they have fought manfully for an ideal. It is small wonder then that they are apprehensive for the future, for they have fought and are still ready to fight for their absolute independence."

One of General Toral's staff officers, whose name I am asked not to mention, but who is a relative of the humane General Hernandez de Velasco, said: "I doubt America's policy, and for the sake of the Cubans hope to see them govern themselves, for, as the Spanish proverb says, 'Better ride your own horse badly than have another man ride him well.' If Cuba is annexed, it will be pure evidence that you Yankees have fostered the rebellion for your own ends and are now grabbing what they helped fight for. Many Cubans have excellent education, and if the niggers get paid off the whites will soon form a government."

Mr. Mason, British consul at Santiago, is an ardent annexationist, and as a business man fully realizes the advantages of a powerful government taking the reins. Some of the Spanish merchants also favor annexation now, but one shipping agent, who agreed with the rest that things would have been better under Spain, said he preferred anything but American military control, that "seizes the wharfs and lighters, and even then cannot efficiently feed its troops and gives no chance for merchants to land cargoes of food for which the citizens are dying with money in their pockets. I charge the military authorities with gross mismanagement, which is costing over 75 lives a day—persons who want nourishing food and find none to buy."

Dr. Caminero, the resident officer of the United States marine hospital service in Santiago, when asked if he thought the Cubans capable of self government replied strongly in the affirmative. "There are thousands of educated and respectable Cubans fully capable of self government, and with the educational facilities that will follow independence in a few years I feel a prosperous nation can arise speedily."

Senor Bory, a merchant and for 15 years Mexican consul, said: "I believe that a declaration of independence of this island is imperative and necessary for the well being and contentment of the people. A government can be set up, and if the inhabitants should prove their inability to sustain it with wisdom or the leaders conduct themselves imprudently the desire for annexation will gain ground in the hearts of the people, who now, as ever, are opposed to the idea."

Professor Miranda, a master of the institute and a learned resident of Santiago, is an ardent partisan of independence. "I have suffered for years, as hundreds of others have suffered, for my political ideas. I have been imprisoned and persecuted for desiring independence, and oppression has strengthened my desire for freedom. Our mission has been for independence and will not be accomplished until we achieve it. We, who have felt the iron heel of Spain and seen our families perish by the hand of brutal officers, our brothers executed or exiled, should feel exceedingly apprehensive as to how far the present misunderstanding with the United States will go in curtailing our future liberty, for which we have fought and will fight for until death, come who may."

Dr. Rey, a graduate of an American college and having a large practice in Santiago, spoke very strongly against those who advocate the annexation of Cuba: "To ask me if the United States should now step in and forcibly annex this island is to ask if a theft is or is not a desirable act. Before God and before man Cuba has dearly earned her independence, and we are ready to stand to the last to achieve it."—George Clarke Musgrave in New York Journal

Put to Flight.

This hero of the conflict was a man of valor rare: He'd face a battleship with frowning guns and never care, He quietly commanded and was instantly obeyed, And when the foemen saw him they were utterly dismayed.

His nerves would show no tremor in a shower of shot and shell; He kept his self possession as he struggled long and well; In all his life it never once occurred to him to run Until they'd signed a protocol and said that war was done.

But in his quiet office, where he scanned his papers o'er, A fearful pallor seized him when a sharp knock shook the door And the messenger politely handed him a lengthy list Of the fair ones in the hallway who were waiting to be kissed.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW

Sunday Will Be Observed In the City In the Proper Way

WITH THE AID OF MAYOR BOUGH

The Blue Laws Go Into Effect Next Sunday and All Business Houses Must Close—No Cigars, Tobacco, Soda Water or Candy Will Be Sold.

If business is transacted in any business house next Sunday, the owner or manager of such a place is liable to get into deep water, and will be compelled to tell Mayor Bough why the place was open upon the first day of the week. In other words, any storekeeper who sells anything upon the first day of the week is liable to be arrested.

The law upon which Mayor Bough has taken his stand states that "whoever engages in common labor upon Sunday, or shall open or cause to be open any building or place for the transaction of business on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or who shall require any person in his employ to engage in common labor on Sunday, shall, on complaint made within 10 days thereafter, and upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisoned not less than five days nor more than 30 days."

Mayor Bough would not speak at length on the subject, but said that the enforcing of the law was in accordance with his belief, and that the Christian people of the community demanded such action.

The officers have been instructed as to the law and next Sunday may file several charges.

REFUSED ADMISSION.

A Columbiana County Patient Could Not Get In Newburg.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—[Special]—Recently Doctor Holland was deputized by Sheriff Gill to take Duacan Smith, of Wells-ville, to the Newburg asylum, but when he arrived there with his patient admission was refused Smith because the time in which Columbiana county patients could be admitted there had passed. Judge Boone telegraphed instructions to Doctor Holland to proceed to Massillon with Smith.

Sheriff Gill is in East Liverpool and Wellsville today serving papers. He will also appraise lots 3188, 3190 and 3222 in East Liverpool in the case of Laura M. Barth against Ambrose C. Bradshaw and others.

A marriage license was issued to Wilson Howell and Bird Huffman.

It costs an average of 28 cents per day for each pauper in Columbiana county.

The following real estate transfers were made yesterday:

Thomas Chistine to W. N. Adams, one-fourth acre in Lisbon; consideration, $500.

H. A. St. Clair to Lucinda Halstead, lots 70 and 71, Hanover; consideration, $75.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Two Prisoners Remove Brick and Make Their Escape.

The first jail delivery that has occurred in the city for years happened last night, when two drunks made good their escape by removing part of the building.

Early last evening a telephone message was received at the fire station asking that an officer be sent to Sixth and Broadway immediately. Officers Bryan and Terrence responded, and as a result Kelley Henselman and Charles Nelson were arrested. They were taken to jail in the patrol where they were charged with being drunk and disorderly. They were put in the jail, but were not locked in the cells.

About 10 o'clock last night Officer White was going in the back part of the building, and when he opened the hall door leading to the jail vestibules he saw a lot of broken brick and mortar on the floor. The men that were put in at 6 o'clock had broke jail, and where they were no one could tell. The brick wall above the jail door has been sinking for several years, and the mortar has been crumbling out. When the men had one brick loose their way was clear, as the taking of the others was work which required but a short time. Their charge was the slightest that could be placed against them, and why they broke jail is not known to the police to the present time.

This is the first time anyone has broken jail in Liverpool for at least six years.

A THIRD STROKE.

Paralysis Ended the Life of a Well Known Grocer.

John F. Quick, aged 45 years, died at his home in East Market street this morning at 11 o'clock. Apoplexy was the cause of death. Services will be held this evening, and the body will be taken to Parkersburg for burial tomorrow morning.

Mr. Quick came to this city about four years ago, and was well and favorably known. He was a prominent church worker, and was a member of the Christian church.

Eight months ago today he received an apoplectic stroke that took from him the use of his right side. A second stroke was not so severe, and caused no serious results. The third and last stroke attacked him yesterday evening, and he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness, from which he never awakened.

The earth has a shadow, but very few ever see it, except in eclipses of the moon, or else few recognize it when they see it. Nevertheless, many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer shortly before sunset a rosy or pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes it. This is the shadow of the earth.

The Earth's Shadow.

The earth has a shadow, but very few ever see it, except in eclipses of the moon, or else few recognize it when they see it. Nevertheless, many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer shortly before sunset a rosy or pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes it. This is the shadow of the earth.

EAST LIVERPOOL, AND SALEM.

THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bona-fide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW

Sunday Will Be Observed In the City In the Proper Way

WITH THE AID OF MAYOR BOUGH

The Blue Laws Go Into Effect Next Sunday and All Business Houses Must Close—No Cigars, Tobacco, Soda Water, or Candy Will Be Sold.

If business is transacted in any business house next Sunday, the owner or manager of such a place is liable to get into deep water, and will be compelled to tell Mayor Bough why the place was open upon the first day of the week. In other words, any storekeeper who sells anything upon the first day of the week is liable to be arrested.

The law upon which Mayor Bough has taken his stand states that "whoever engages in common labor upon Sunday, or shall open or cause to be open any building or place for the transaction of business on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or who shall require any person in his employ to engage in common labor on Sunday, shall, on complaint made within 10 days thereafter, and upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisoned not less than five days nor more than 30 days."

Mayor Bough would not speak at length on the subject, but said that the enforcing of the law was in accordance with his belief, and that the Christian people of the community demanded such action.

The officers have been instructed as to the law and next Sunday may file several charges.

A Columbian County Patient Could Not Get In Newburg.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—[Special]—Recently Doctor Holland was deputized by Sheriff Gill to take Duacan Smith, of Wellsville, to the Newburg asylum, but when he arrived there with his patient admission was refused Smith because the time in which Columbian county patients could be admitted there had passed. Judge Boone telegraphed instructions to Doctor Holland to proceed to Massillon with Smith.

Sheriff Gill is in East Liverpool and Wellsville today serving papers. He will also appraise lots 3188, 3190 and 3222 in East Liverpool in the case of Laura M. Barth against Ambrose C. Bradshaw and others.

A marriage license was issued to Wilson Howell and Bird Huffman.

It costs an average of 28 cents per day for each pauper in Columbian county.

The following real estate transfers were made yesterday:

Thomas Chistine to W. N. Adams, one-fourth acre in Lisbon; consideration, $500.

H. A. St. Clair to Lucinda Halstead, lots 70 and 71, Hanover; consideration, $75.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Two Prisoners Remove Brick and Make Their Escape.

The first jail delivery that has occurred in the city for years happened last night, when two drunks made good their escape by removing part of the building.

Early last evening a telephone message was received at the fire station asking that an officer be sent to Sixth and Broadway immediately. Officers Bryan and Terrence responded, and as a result Kelley Henselman and Charles Nelson were arrested. They were taken to jail in the patrol where they were charged with being drunk and disorderly. They were put in the jail, but were not locked in the cells.

About 10 o'clock last night Officer White was going in the back part of the building, and when he opened the hall door leading to the jail vestibules he saw a lot of broken brick and mortar on the floor. The men that were put in at 6 o'clock had broke jail, and where they were no one could tell. The brick wall above the jail door has been sinking for several years, and the mortar has been crumbling out. When the men had one brick loose their way was clear, as the taking of the others was work which required but a short time. Their charge was the slightest that could be placed against them, and why they broke jail is not known to the police to the present time.

This is the first time anyone has broken jail in Liverpool for at least six years.

Bright and spicy, the NEWS REVIEW.

Paralysis Ended the Life of a Well Known Grocer.

John F. Quick, aged 45 years, died at his home in East Market street this morning at 11 o'clock. Apoplexy was the cause of death. Services will be held this evening, and the body will be taken to Parkersburg for burial tomorrow morning.

Mr. Quick came to this city about four years ago, and was well and favorably known. He was a prominent church worker, and was a member of the Christian church.

Eight months ago today he received an apoplectic stroke that took from him the use of his right side. A second stroke was not so severe, and caused no serious results. The third and last stroke attacked him yesterday evening, and he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness, from which he never awakened.

A RECEPTION.

The Y. M. C. A. Will Entertain Company E.

The Christian association will Monday evening tender a reception to the members of Company E. It is proposed to throw the privileges of the building open to the members of the company. An elaborate program will be arranged and refreshments will be served. The arrangements have not yet been completed.

Too Much Eating.

Gluttony has its victims, hardly less numerous than other vices. To overeat is to overburden the digestive organs to such an extent that it will be impossible for them to perform their duties properly. Deleterious products are created, and health is finally destroyed. A prominent judge used to say such men dig their graves with their teeth—and it is so. On the other hand, there are those who eat too little. All extremes are evils that experience should govern. —Exchange.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 78.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, SEPT. 9, 1898.

Elected Commander-In-Chief of the G. A. R.

That City Received Most Votes as the Place For the Encampment Next Year. Strong Friendship For Alger Apparent—Some of the Proceedings.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Colonel James A. Sexton of Chicago was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday, and Philadelphia was chosen for the thirty-third annual encampment next year. While there were all sorts of combinations between the state departments, yet the fight between New York and Pennsylvania was very bitter. These two neighboring states were competitors for honor, one for the election of Colonel A. D. Shaw of Watertown, N. Y., as commander-in-chief, and the other for the location of the next national encampment at the Quaker City.

New York voted to hold the next encampment at Denver and it was only by the diplomacy and shrewd management of the Chicago contingent in the interest of Sexton that Denver lost in the strong contest for the next encampment. While it is true that Pennsylvania gave Sexton a strong vote from the east, yet it is also true that the shrewd managers from Chicago gave Philadelphia much more than the solid vote of Illinois in the contest for the location of the next encampment. The vote for commander-in-chief was 424 votes for Sexton and 241 for Shaw. Philadelphia got 395 votes to 295 for Denver for the next meeting place.

The peace jubilee parade of the civic and industrial organizations yesterday afternoon was a magnificent pageant. It was estimated that there were 40,000 in line and over 500,000 spectators along the line.

The river fronts and some parks and Camp Sherman were ablaze last night with elaborate displays of fireworks.

The national encampment elected only its commander-in-chief yesterday, and will elect its other officers today, adopt its resolutions and attend to other business.

The auxiliaries of the ladies elect their officers also today.

When the report on pensions was made, yesterday, Corporal Tanner made an attack on Commissioner Evans' treatment of pension cases, and action on the report was postponed until after the report of the committee on resolutions.

Mrs. William Scott, a negro woman, made a plea for more recognition for the old negro soldiers.

Mrs. Martin, national president of the Woman's Relief corps, asked that the corps be allowed to use its funds to help relieve soldiers who served in the recent war against Spain. It was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Among those on the committee on resolutions were: Ohio, A. M. Warner; Pennsylvania, C. W. Hazzard; West Virginia, George J. Walker; Maryland, Robert C. Sunstrom.

General Gobin made his annual report yesterday, which in part was as follows:

As comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, we can look over the events of the year just passed with feelings of congratulations and just pride.

To our esteemed comrade, President William McKinley, and his secretary of war, our past commander-in-chief, R. A. Alger, we have given our individual and organized support in the arduous duties imposed upon them. Never in the world's history has there been an occasion when the experience of leaders in national strife rendered them so thoroughly competent to meet the difficulties encountered. Our people are proverbially peaceful in their desires. Averse to war, naturally, no portion of them are more so than the men who by personal experience have participated in its horrors.

Yet at the call of the president there was no delay, no hesitancy in responding, and today there are no regrets and no division of sentiment as to the magnificent manner in which those officials have performed the arduous duties of their important positions. The congratulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, ay, of the nation, are due them, and from this present encampment there should go forward no uncertain words as to our united support to the government in solving the difficult problems yet before them. Confident are we that the result will justify the supreme faith which we repose in these, our comrades, and through their efforts we believe the nation will continue advancing under the providence of Almighty God to the higher position which he has evidently designed for it.

He opposed taking soldiers of the recent war into the organization.

When the annual reports were being read, especially Gobin's, there was considerable cheering at the mention of President McKinley's name, but when the name of Secretary Alger was mentioned in connection with the recent war there was an uproarious demonstration in his favor. After the reports had been referred to their respective committees many resolutions were offered, specifically indorsing the administration of General Alger in the war department.

A resolution was introduced to have the school histories use the term of "the war between the states," instead of "the war of the rebellion." It is quite likely that resolutions will be adopted providing for the use of the term of "war for the preservation of the Union." There will likely also be an effort made to secure representation for the colored men in the national encampment.

ALGER VISITED MEADE.

The Secretary of War Made a Tour of the Camp Today—More Sick Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Secretary of War Alger arrived at Camp Meade on a tour of inspection early this morning and left about noon for Detroit. The secretary's car was sidetracked near Camp Meade station, and after breakfast General Walker and his party were driven to corps headquarters. Here they were met by General Graham and staff, after which the party were taken over the camp. General Graham is anxious to give a review in honor of his distinguished guest, and if he consents the entire Second army corps will be paraded.

General Shafter is expected to visit the camp today.

Secretary Alger was asked to pay especial attention to the sanitary arrangements of the camp and the appointments of the two division hospitals and the hospitals which the Red Cross society had fitted up for the treatment of typhoid fever patients.

Governor Hastings visited the camp yesterday afternoon with a small party of friends, and was delighted with its location and the appearance and condition of the men. He paid especial attention to the Pennsylvania regiments and congratulated General Graham on the pains he had taken to make them happy and comfortable. Colonel Corry received an order last evening for the muster out of the Twelfth Pennsylvania regiment.

Last evening a hospital train from St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, took away 76 sick soldiers from the Second division hospital. The First Maryland reached camp yesterday from Fort Monroe and may be followed tonight by the Fifteenth Pennsylvania, which has been encamped at Fort Sheridan since it left Mt. Gretna. General Graham expects to complete the movement of the troops to and from camp during the next few days.

MILES IN WASHINGTON.

Crowd Cheered Him and Wife and Staff on Their Arrival—No Further Statement at Present.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army of the United States, accompanied by Mrs. Miles and Colonel Mauss and Colonel Michler, of his staff, arrived here from New York last evening.

They were met at the Sixth street station by Major Black, a member of General Miles' staff, and Captain Morton, chief clerk in the office of the commanding general.

Several hundred people had assembled at the station. A cordon of police officers opened a way through the crowd from the ticket gate to the station.

As General Miles stepped from the rear platform of his car he gave a kind greeting to his coachman, who stood awaiting him, and then handed to him a bundle of souvenir canes, while he grasped the hands of Captain Morton, Major Black and two or three newspaper men.

As General Miles passed through the crowd in the station his hands were grasped a score of times by enthusiastic men and women. As he and Mrs. Miles and Colonel Michler stepped into the carriage the crowd burst into cheers.

While expressing his gratification at the successful termination of the war and his pleasure at once more being at home, General Miles said he had nothing to say at this time in addition to the statement given to the press by him in New York.

IMMUNES NOT IMMUNE.

Yellow Fever Broke Out in a Regiment Before Santiago—Destitution Among Cubans.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 9.—Six cases of yellow fever have developed in Colonel Sargent's Fifth immune regiment.

The victims have been sent to the yellow fever hospitals, and a strict quarantine has been established against the regiment, which is encamped on the hills along the Morro road, about two miles south of the city.

There is a great deal of sickness in this regiment, but, in the opinion of the surgeons, no more yellow fever.

All the other regiments now doing garrison duty are in fairly good health. The destitution among the Cubans is still appalling. General Wood issued 52,000 free rations Wednesday. The capacity of the free supply depots is not great enough to meet the demand, and a new one is to be established shortly.

Asked to Use Water.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A letter was sent from National W. C. T. U. headquarters yesterday to Miss Daisy Leiter, who is to christen the battleship Illinois, asking her to use water instead of champagne.

REQUESTED BY ALGER.

President Asked For Investigation of War Department.

CABINET MAY CONSIDER TODAY.

It Was Stated In High Official Circles No Attention May Be Paid to General Miles' Criticisms—Some Think Him His Own Worst Enemy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Secretary Alger has requested the president to order a thorough and searching investigation of the war department. In this request the secretary has been joined by Adjutant General Corbin.

No decision has been reached yet by the president as to what course he will pursue. It may be decided at the cabinet meeting today. He has the request of Secretary Alger under consideration, but has not yet determined whether he will grant it or not.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the president last night before leaving the city and impressed upon him his earnest desire that an investigation such as he had requested be ordered.

In high official quarters the belief was expressed last night that no official attention would be paid to General Miles' criticisms. In view of much loose conjecture over the imminence of a court martial or court of inquiry for the trial of General Miles, it can be stated positively that those in authority have not up to the present time determined upon any such course of action, nor have they felt that such steps would be conducive to the best interests of the public service.

In some high official quarters there is a disposition to look upon General Miles as being his own worst enemy, and to pass over his comments as ill advised, though not to the extent of constituting insubordination, or warranting official action by the president or war department.

AGUINALDO NOT FEARED.

Story That Otis Sent Word of an Ultimatum Not True—Merritt Gave Him Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Reports have been circulated that the president received a dispatch from General Otis Wednesday saying that he had given Aguinaldo until yesterday to vacate the suburbs or else take the consequences. This was erroneous, however, as no such crisis had been reported by General Otis. There was said to be no easiness in official circles over our relations with the insurgents, as the American officers at Manila had shown an ability to cope with the situation so tactfully as to avoid friction and entanglements.

It will be recalled that Major General Merritt, before starting for Paris, advised the insurgent leader, Aguinaldo, that the authority of the United States in and about Manila must be respected, and that in the interest of a quiet and orderly administration of affairs it was desirable for the insurgents to vacate the suburbs of the city within a reasonable time. About that time Aguinaldo gave assurances of co-operating with the American forces toward the maintenance of order.

NOT SELECTED.

The President Hadn't Appointed the Fifth Peace Commissioner—Cabinet Members Called.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Three members of the cabinet were with the president shortly after noon yesterday, Secretaries Gage, Alger and Postmaster General Emory Smith. Mr. Gage's call related to the treasury appointments. Secretary Alger came to close up many small matters before starting on his western trip. The secretary left Washington last night and expects to be at Camp Meade today.

In an authoritative quarter it was stated during the day that the president had not yet selected the fifth member of the peace commission.

Owing to reports that the Miles interviews had been under consideration by the several cabinet officers with the president, it was stated by one of those present that the subject had not come up.

OUR FLAG RAISED.

Foreign Attaches Surprised at an Incident of British Army Manoeuvres on Salisbury Plain.

St. PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—In view of the irritation in France, the politicians and newspapers are seeking to represent the czar's peace circular in a new light. They urge that it has been misconstrued and assert that the imperial government never contemplated the immediate convocation of a conference, being fully aware of the difficulties in the way. It was only hoped, they continue, to sow good seed which would gradually germinate and bear fruit when circumstances are more favorable.

These utterances are regarded as indicating, owing particularly to the attitude of France, that the failure of the czar's proposal is foreseen and that public opinion is being prepared for it.

THE TENTH RECRUITS.

Pennsylvanians Held at Honolulu—Congressional Commissioners' Tour.

Distress Among Immigrants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The steamer Glenogle, which arrived yesterday from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu, brought advices from Honolulu under date of Aug. 31.

The congressional commission, with the exception of President Dole, left for the other islands on Aug. 22 and returned on Aug. 28, after visiting the principal towns of Maui and Hawaii. In speaking of the trip Senator Morgan said that he thought they had very effectively disposed of the prevalent idea among the natives that annexation was only a war measure.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani arrived at Hilo at the same time the commissioners arrived, and accompanied them in a separate conveyance to the volcano. She was very courteous.

General Merriam states that his orders from Washington are to hold everything at Honolulu until he hears from the government again. These instructions apply to the Tacoma and her livestock as well as the Arizona and her troops.

The steamship Arizona has arrived here with the Third battalion, Eighteenth infantry, recruits of the First Colorado, First Nebraska, Tenth Pennsylvania and Third artillery, in all 1,206 men, besides General Merriam and the Red Cross corps. Preparations are being made to have the troops on the Arizona camp at Kapiolani park in case they are to be held here instead of going to Manila.

The Chinese have presented a memorial to the congressional commission asking that all Chinese that have become naturalized under the laws of Hawaii and all children born in Hawaii be permitted the right of transit to and from all parts of the United States.

There is much distress here among a large number of people who have rushed to the Hawaiian Islands expecting to engage in business. They have come with but little money and they find there is nothing here for them to do.

SPANISH DELAYING.

The Commissioners In Porto Rico Seem Inclined to Hold Back Proceedings—Americans' Reply.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Sept. 9.—The Spanish evacuation commissioners seemed disposed yesterday to delay the meeting of the commissions. They said their instructions had not yet arrived, but were expected on the Alfonso XIII in the course of a few days. They intimated that even then they would need time to study them.

The American commissioners replied that the first meeting must occur before Sept. 12, under the terms of the peace protocol.

The United States cruiser Cincinnati, Captain Chester, arrived yesterday morning from St. Thomas and saluted the Spanish flag and Rear Admiral Schley's pennant. The Spanish forts and warships replied.

Yesterday being a holiday the city was covered with Spanish flags and all the shops and banks were closed.

Military mass was celebrated in the Catholic churches. Brigadier General Gordon, Rear Admiral Schley and the Americans in the city attended.

SEVEN MORE DIED.

Quite a Death List Reported From Camp Wikoff—Two Brothers Among the Dead.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I., Sept. 9.—The death list from the general hospital yesterday included the following:

William Cramer, Company C, Twelfth infantry.

Joseph Keene, Company H, Ninth Massachusetts.

Elden T. Keene, his brother, Company H, Ninth Massachusetts.

Otto Sandhammer, Company A, Eighth Ohio.

Frank A. Griffith, Company I, First District of Columbia.

Joseph Berman, Company A, Third infantry.

J. C. Long, Company C, Eighth Ohio. The Keene brothers of the Ninth Massachusetts died within an hour of each other with malarial fever.

Yesterday there were 761 patients in the general hospital and 900 vacant cots. In the detention hospital there were 350 and 200 vacant beds.

Michigan Hospital Train.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—The nucleus of a hospital train, which Governor Pingree had arranged for to bring home the sick of the Thirty-first Michigan from Knoxville and of the Thirty-second Michigan from the division hospital and Fort McPherson, left last night over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad.

Weather Forecast.

Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness, and on the lakes probably showers; continued low temperature; light variable winds.

EIGHTH BOYS HOME.

Given Great Welcomes at the Various Places.

On Reaching Cleveland They Scattered to Their Various Home Towns and Cities—Some Left Buried In Cuban Soil. Several Banquets Intended.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—The Eighth Ohio volunteer regiment, (President's Own) arrived in this city over the Lake Shore road early yesterday morning from Montauk Point. A corps of physicians was on hand at the station when the train arrived. In all 12 companies arrived. They were: A of Bucyrus, B of Akron, C of Polk, D of Wooster, E of East Liverpool, F, L and I of Canton, H of Shreve, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield and G of Wadsworth.

After being served with a good breakfast the men scattered, taking trains on various roads from this city direct for their homes.

Colonel Hard said there was no time at which the men of his regiment were starving, and although there were times when food was scarce, there was no time when the men did not have a little to eat.

At Wooster fully 5,000 people were at the train and joined in a monster procession in honor of the soldiers. Every soldier who came with the company was able to march. Fourteen were left in the hospital at Camp Wikoff. Colonel Hard was given a hearty welcome.

At Akron about 15,000 people gathered to greet Company B. The sick were taken to their homes in carriages, while those able to march were taken to the armory.

Canton welcomed her three companies of the "President's Own" in royal style and will give them a public reception and banquet next week. Nearly 50 Canton men were left behind in the hospitals.

About 8,000 people greeted Company E of East Liverpool and enthusiastic citizens carried soldiers on their shoulders to the armory. Of the 106 men men who marched away, 45 returned with the regiment. Three have died, 40 were sent home sick, and the remainder are in hospitals at Montauk.

Only 40 members out of 106 of Company M were able to march four blocks from the depot to their armory when they reached Mansfield. Forty of them had already come home on sick leave at various times since reaching Camp Wikoff. Sixteen were taken in carriages and the other ten were behind. Captain Marquis is very ill. Privates Simpson and Coleman died and were buried on Cuban soil. Several others are quite seriously ill at their homes here.

Alliance welcomed Company K with booming cannon, ringing bells and screaming whistles. About 10,000 people cheered the soldiers and escorted them to the public square, whence they were taken home in carriages.

Company H of Shreve lost six men at Santiago. Those remaining were given a grand welcome and will be tendered a grand banquet.

Robert Potts, Charles Seacrist and Allie Kirkwood, Company E boys, arrived at Wellsville, all in good health. Private Ed Holoway is seriously ill in the hospital.

TWO MURDERED.

Man and Daughter Killed Near Cambridge, O.—Son-In-Law, Found Unconscious, Under Arrest.

CAMBRIDGE, O., Sept. 9.—Squire Boyd and daughter, Mrs. J. L. Wyrick, residing three miles east of here, were found brutally murdered yesterday. The body of Squire Boyd was lying on the floor clad only in night clothes, with a scalp wound made by a bullet, about eight inches long, passing over the top of his head, and his face and forehead terribly mutilated by some blunt instrument.

There was evidence that a terrific struggle had taken place. The body of Mrs. Wyrick was found in a doorway leading to her father's room, clad in her night clothes. She had a bullet wound through the breast. Powder marks showed that the pistol had been placed against her breast.

Orip Law, son-in-law of Mr. Boyd, was found in another room unconscious. There were no wounds or marks on his person.

Suspicion points strongly against Law and he was arrested. Law's wife died about three weeks ago and it is known that there has been trouble between him and the murdered man. Wednesday they had a quarrel.

Law remained unconscious until about 6 o'clock last evening. He would not talk of the affair.

HE LOST TWO FINGERS

The Gun Went Off While Charles Pinkerton WAS CLIMBING OVER A FENCE

And as a Result He Is Suffering a Great Deal of Pain—George Cox Narrowly Escaped Serious Injury by a Gas Explosion at the Goodwin Pottery.

Charles Pinkerton, a 17-year-old boy residing with his parents in Pennsylvania avenue, East End, met with an accident yesterday afternoon which resulted seriously.

Pinkerton was climbing over a fence and in his right hand was a shot gun. When he was in the act of getting from the fence the gun in some manner was discharged, the shot going through the palm of the hand and injuring two fingers so badly that they had to be amputated. The injury is very painful, and it will some time before he will be able to use his hand.

George Cox, of Jackson square, and employed at the Goodwin pottery as an oddman, met with an accident that might have resulted in his death yesterday.

Shortly before noon Cox went into the gloss kiln shed for the purpose of cleaning it out. The kiln is fired by gas, and after each firing is cleaned. Cox put his head in one of the coal shutles and then lit a match. He was about to commence his work when suddenly some escaping gas ignited, which threw Cox from the kiln, a distance of several feet. Several workmen standing near went to his assistance, and upon examination it was found that he was badly burned about the arms and face. During the afternoon it was with difficulty that he was able to see from his left eye. Restoratives were applied, which relieved the man, but during the afternoon his injuries were very painful.

This is the first accident of that character which has occurred at the Goodwin pottery, as every precaution is taken to avoid accidents in the kiln sheds.

WOULD SUPPORT BRYAN.

Teller So Declared to His Followers. Conflicting Factions Compromised Regarding Halls.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—Four state conventions, representing the Democratic, Populist and fusion and anti-fusion Silver Republicans, assembled in this city yesterday, each in a separate hall. Further conflict over the possession of the opera house between the Silver Republican factions was averted by an agreement to hold separate conventions in other halls.

Senator Teller was then elected temporary chairman. He made a speech in which he reiterated his well known views on the silver question. He said he would gladly support Bryan in 1900.

Senator Teller declared President McKinley was an enemy of silver. He advocated retention of the Philippines.

Senator Walcott came to town yesterday and has been in conference with some of the anti-Teller Silver Republican leaders.

This faction will declare for the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1," omitting the words "without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation." The resolution will commend President McKinley's war policy.

At the end of yesterday's sessions of the four state conventions the chances for fusion between the Democrats, Populists and the Teller branch of the Silver Republican party appeared little brighter.

WHEELER'S BEREAVEMENT.

Body of His Young Son and That of Lieutenant Kirkpatrick Found. Probably Third Victim.

CAMP WIKOFF, MONTAUK POINT, L. I., Sept. 9.—The bodies of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, the son of Major General Joseph Wheeler, and Second Lieutenant Newton D. Kirkpatrick of the First United States cavalry, who were drowned while bathing in the sea Wednesday, came in with the tide and were thrown on the beach about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A detail of 60 men from the Second cavalry had been patrolling the beach with lanterns.

Cavalry men gathered from up and down the beach and followed the bodies to General Wheeler's headquarters. With General Wheeler were three of his daughters, who had been in camp nursing the sick.

The uniform of an infantry private, with shoes, hat and underwear, were found on the beach yesterday morning. It is inferred that a third man was drowned Wednesday night. A name was on the inside of the trousers, but it was illegible.

USED REVOLVERS IN COLLECTING.

East St. Louis Man Got a $10,416 Check, but Was Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William R. McFarland, of the horse commission firm of McFarland & Evans of East St. Louis, yesterday walked into the office of Louis Newgass & Son, at the stock yards here, and compelled Louis N. Newgass, the junior member of the firm, and his cashier, Frank Moseley, to write him out a check for $10,416. He then made them swear not to follow him or raise an outcry.

After he left they informed police headquarters and two detectives caught him trying to cash the check in a bank.

The $10,416 which McFarland attempted to collect is said to be the amount due McFarland in consequence of a sale of horses to the De Four Commission company, which deal had been returned to Newgass & Son. McFarland is said to have feared he would come out loser in the transfer.

ORDER RESTORED IN CRETE.

Mussulmans Allowed Houses of Christians to Be Pillaged.

CANDIA, Island of Crete, Sept. 9.—A detachment of international troops, which arrived here yesterday, occupied the fortifications and restored order.

It is now estimated that 200 persons were killed during the rioting. The Mussulman troops protected the Christians placed under their care, but they did not attempt to prevent the pillage of Christian houses, which continued until the international troops arrived.

WELLSVILLE.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY

Creates Intense Excitement In Wellsville.

THREE PISTOL SHOTS WERE FIRED

But None Took Effect—It Is Said the Trouble Grew Out of an Old Political
Set.

Wellsville was in a high state of excitement last night when a report became current that a shooting affray had taken place on Main street, with the result that Frank E. Lowery was at the point of death from a pistol wound inflicted by William Cornelius.

A NEWS REVIEW reporter soon reached the scene, and found that, as usual, the matter had been greatly exaggerated, and no one was hurt, although shots had been fired. The story secured from a witness of the affair is as follows:

There had been bad blood between Cornelius and Lowery for some time, despite the intercession of friends for a peaceful settlement. About 8 o'clock last night Lowery, with his wife and son, Ralph, were sitting on the steps in front of their home when Cornelius came directly across the street. He asked for Mr. Lowery, who replied from the inside of the house, where he had went, anticipating trouble, "You had better go home and stay there and not be seeking trouble, or you'll get it." Cornelius drew his revolver and fired three shots in quick succession. One of the bullets passed through Lowery's coat, and lodged among a pack of letters in his breast pocket. Another shot wrecked the works of a clock on the mantel, and a search for the third was unrewarded.

Meantime Lowery, who was also armed, drew his revolver and tried to get a chance at Cornelius, but his wife and son, and his brother, W. E. Lowery, and Wilbur Simpson, who were attracted by the shooting, were directly in the way, and he could not fire without injuring them.

After the third shot Cornelius walked up Main to Sixth street, and going out toward the river turned up the alley, at D. Manist's residence, and later boarded a car for East Liverpool. By this time the officers were in pursuit.

Cornelius arrived in Liverpool and gave instructions as to printing on hand in the NEWS REVIEW job room, where he is employed, and went to the Cleveland and Pittsburg station where he took the 1:30 train for Wellsville. He would not talk for publication, and when a reporter called upon him this morning stated that the trouble arose from an old political feud, and further he had nothing to say, being instructed by his lawyer to talk to no one.

The mayor being absent from the city the time for a hearing has not been set. This will probably be waived by Cornelius and Bond furnished for appearance at Lisbon. Considerable excitement was occasioned when the news reached this city, as Mr. Cornelius counts his friends by the hundreds, and is known as a peaceful citizen and a steady, industrious workman. If the matter comes to trial there may be startling developments of which the public knows nothing.

The News of Wellsville.

A surprise party will be held in honor of Samuel Adams this evening at his residence, east of town.

The many friends of our soldier boy, Harry Smith, are pleased to learn that at last he is beginning to improve. He has been able to obtain sleep for two nights, the lack of which was against his recovery.

There will be a festival held tonight at Oak Ridge church.

An unoccupied house belonging to George Mick in the Scotch settlement has been visited by some miscreants who broke windows and otherwise abused the property. It will go hard with them if Constable Cameron finds the guilty parties.

A window in a local grocery is attracting considerable attention. One of the soldier boys has placed his collection of relics on exhibition, the most gruesome of which is a section of the spinal column of a Spaniard, secured after the flesh had been devoured by vultures. The collection is large and highly prized by the owner.

Finished Their Work.

The force of men who have been working on the Wellsville road yesterday

completed the guards at the Brady cut. The guards have long been needed and it is a wonder that a serious accident has not taken place at the culvert, as it has been unprotected for several months.

Teachers Will Meet.

The last teachers' meeting before the opening of the new school term will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the high school room of the Central building and Superintendent Rayman is of the opinion that almost every teacher in the city will be present. Room has been reserved for those interested in school work who are not teachers.

Baseball.

Winnie Mercer yesterday played a very poor game in middle field for the Washington team making one putout and two errors. He failed to get his usual hit.

A number of the local ball players will tomorrow go to New Cumberland to assist that team in their game with Toronto.

On the River.

The river rose some during the night, and as a result the marks at the wharf this morning registered 2.9 feet. It is possible that some of the light draught boats will be able to get up Sunday.

Considerable freight is now at the wharf awaiting shipment to the south. The first boat that goes down will receive some big business from this place.

Wants a List.

Mrs. J. N. Taylor, president of the Red Cross society, is anxious to secure the name and address of each member of Company E that returned to the city yesterday. The list is desired by the society for future use.

OARS FOR ALL NAVIES.

Times For the World's Fleets.

Devall Bluffs, a little town in the lumber region of Arkansas, furnishes oars for the navies of the world. There are other oars than those made in Arkansas in use on men-of-war, but Devall Bluffs people have the honor of having made the oars which propel the small boats in the French and Italian navies at present, and at various times during the history of "the Bluffs" the oar factory there has furnished oars for the other big navies of the world. An Arkansas statesman, commenting on the resources of his state, said:

"If you happen to be something of a globe trotter, take heed when next you see a boat lowered from a French or Italian man-of-war, and as the crystal drops shower from the oar blades you may note beneath the fine, firm grain of Arkansas or Missouri ash. Charles Wells, the Devall Bluffs manufacturer, confesses his inability to remember how far back in the past the industry dates, but to his grandsire belongs the honor of first shaping oars by machinery, and the Wells oars were recognized as the standard of excellence long before the need of a closer timber supply brought about the establishment of works in America. At one time or another every navy in the world has had oars from Devall Bluffs.

"The oar factory regularly employs about 50 hands, and having its own electric lighting plant can work night shifts when crowded with orders. Its ordinary output is some 250 pieces in a ten hour run, including oars of all lengths, from 6½ to 24 feet. A good share of its finished product is placed through its English branches in London, Liverpool and Glasgow, but a vast demand is supplied from the factory direct. The salmon fisheries of the Pacific coast furnish a good market, and the Wells brand of oars is not unknown on the Atlantic seaboard of the states and provinces. Foreign countries are large purchasers, large shipments go regularly to New England, while for years past the French and Italian navies have annually placed large orders with the factory, the requirements of the two countries being practically the same with regard to specifications and models. France's order for the present year aggregates 5,200 pieces, or about the same as in years past."—Louisville Post.

Fine Sanctuary In Jerusalem.

Toward the close of September Emperor William of Germany will go to Jerusalem, where he will dedicate the now almost completed Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Saviour, and where he will lay the cornerstone of the German hospital, school and parsonage. The emperor goes as the friend of the sultan, and it is said that as a special mark of esteem his majesty will be presented with the site of the last supper by the ruler of Turkey. At any rate it may be safely concluded that the emperor's visit and friendly relations with the sultan will greatly facilitate the contemplated works of excavation, which will be conducted under the auspices of the German Exploration society, an organization in which the emperor is deeply interested. One of his pet schemes is to settle the disputes of Biblical scholars as to the exact sites of the most important occurrences in the life of our Lord.

The Church of Our Saviour at Jerusalem is a most gorgeous structure, having been erected at a cost of nearly $300,000. The emperor has contributed the greater part of the cost of the building, while loyal Protestants from all over the fatherland have sent money and various articles of church furniture. The Kaiser has some plans for a better understanding between Mohammedans and Christians.—New York Journal

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had perforce to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

The Firecracker.

The firecracker so extensively used by Americans in celebrating Independence day is a Chinese invention and is supposed to have been used in China in prehistoric times as universally as it is now used in the Flowery Kingdom upon nearly all ceremonious occasions. Its original use is supposed to have been to frighten away evil spirits, and in some parts of the Celestial empire it is still regarded as an effective weapon against ghosts and hobgoblins.

CAPTAIN BOB EVANS was probably sorry he wrote that letter when he learned what Chaplain McIntyre had to say of him.

THEY say the Philippines will be Uncle Sam's knotty problem for settlement. That's nothing new. It has been a knotty problem for Spain during many centuries.

THE mustering out of troops is a mat-tor which requires good judgment, and the government cannot be expected to answer every request with a cheerful affirmative, for a great many men are yet needed. There should be, however, the exercise of common sense in the selections of regiments, and the country expects something more than blind military custom in this direction.

THE DEMOCRATIC ISSUE.

While some Republican papers have entered heartily into the publication of sensational stories concerning the sufferings of American soldiers, the yellow press has been wildly enthusiastic because it hoped to find an issue upon which the Democratic party could fight the battles of the coming congressional campaign. No one believes they have been successful because the yellow press has never done anything but shout with a loud voice, endeavoring to stampede its enemies, as it were. The people know President McKinley. They have known him for many years, and at no time has he forsaken their cause. Now when he is needed he will rise to the occasion, show the facts, and to the discomfort of his enemies snatch from the Democrats the issue they so long to use.
 He can be depended upon to do his duty at all times.

GENERAL MILES' FRIENDS.

It matters not what motive prompted General Miles to demand satisfaction so openly from General Alger, the fact remains that he has made charges which should be investigated without delay.
 In this the major-general commanding the army has the support of thousands of firm, staunch, patriotic Americans.
 They like General Miles for the record he made more than 30 years ago and for his last campaign of good sense in Porto Rico. They also like him because he has laid himself open to punishment by criticizing the secretary of war so vigorously as to bring down that gentleman's wrath upon his broad shoulders and curling hair. Evidently the general seeks a court of inquiry. Let us hope it will be ordered. Should Secretary Alger carry out his threat and bring his opponent before a court the country will soon know who was responsible for every mistake in the Santiago campaign, provided the court decides mistakes were made. That is what the people want to know. They have heard much, but are really in possession of few facts. General Miles may force out the truth.

THE SECOND U.P. CHURCH

A Brief History of Its Remarkable Progress

AS TOLD BY DR. J. C. TAGGART

Like the Fruit Tree in the Orchard Which sprang From a Tiny Seed Was the Growth of This Church—The First Services Held in a Cooper Shop.

A brief history of the origin of the Second United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, Ohio.

"I have been asked to give a brief history of the beginnings of this congregation which, in doing the Lord's work, has found it necessary to have a larger and more commodious house of worship, with an account of the building of the chapel which, having served its purpose has given place for the house whose corner stone we meet to lay today.

"It is pleasant and stimulating to study the beginnings of successful enterprises. In doing so we often find that the most useful and permanent spring from that which at first may seem small and unimportant. The river flowing through the valley with its rich and varied blessings to the surrounding country is found when we trace it to its source to start from some little spring or well on the mountain side, gathering in volume, in its onward course, from various sources till it becomes a wide and mighty stream. So with our congregations, strong as they may be in numbers and influence, their beginnings are usually small, originating in weak and humble efforts.

"The fruit tree in the orchard or the magnificent shade tree in the lawn, sprang from a little seed planted in the ground. The shoot that sprang from the seed may have been transplanted and have gathered strength and vigor by the culture it thus received, but its life began in the sprouting of the little seed. We may not know when the seed from which this goodly tree which we believe is of God's own nurture was first planted, but we believe that the influences which led on to the organization of this church had their origin largely in services which for several years previous had been held somewhat regularly in the school house of the Neville institute, a mile or more east of this. Some families of the parent church living near this school house, it was the custom of the pastor to frequently preach there on Sabbath afternoons or evenings. A prayer meeting on a week night, with the study of the Bible lesson for the next Sabbath, was also held for some time.

"These meetings, besides the blessing they brought to those attending them, created an interest in mission work, so that when the town began to grow in what was then called Ohio City, now known as East End, it was felt that something should be done to meet the religious needs of those who were so far separated from the churches of the city. This led to the organization of Sabbath school work there in the summer of 1881. The first session of the school and the first preaching service were held in a cooper shop owned by a Mr. Walters. This affording but poor accommodation, a subscription was raised for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a chapel. The parent church was still largely in debt for their house of worship erected a few years before, and many thought that we should wait till clear of debt before erecting another church. But so earnestly did others think that an opportunity was opened up for mission work in this part of the city these objections were not permitted to stand in the way. A good portion of the subscriptions was in the way of contributions of labor and material given by those interested in the enterprise who did not feel able to give a money contribution. The original lot cost $200 and the building about $900 more. Of this about $400 remained as a debt, which was assumed and paid by the trustees of the church. So that the chapel was given to the church at its organization free of debt.

"The chapel was opened Oct. 23, 1881, with a sermon by the pastor on the text, 'For the love of Christ constraineth us,' II Corinthians v, 14. A Sabbath school was organized, meeting on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock. The first superintendent was Mr. John G. Quay, who held that position till the close of 1884. He was succeeded by Mr. J. C. McClain, who was superintendent for two years, when Mr. Quay resumed the position for the year 1887. Besides these two brethren who did such faithful work in both superintending and teaching, the names of the following, who lived outside the bounds of the Sabbath school should be mentioned on account of the help they gave at various times in the way of teaching: Messrs. Alex McGraw, D. A. Mackintosh, W. H. Gaston, Joseph A. Quay, Alex. Quay and William Glenn.

"In addition to the Sabbath school, which from the first was carried on with vigor and efficiency, there was a preaching service about once a month, and during a good part of the time a weekly prayer meeting.

"During the year 1887 the number of members in this part of the congregation having increased, and this part of our city building up rapidly it was felt that more preaching in the chapel was needed than could be done by the pastor, so a stated supply was engaged for the first quarter of 1888. At the meeting of the presbytery of Steubenville in December, 1887 the session made application for the organization of a second church. This was granted, and the pastor and session of the First church were appointed to effect the organization at their convenience.

"The Rev. A. K. Knox, a licentiate of

The first session meeting was held April 2, 1888, with Rev. J. C. Taggart, Rev. A. K. Knox, and Messrs. George Thompson, Charles Hanley, Frank White, F. L. Andrews and J. G. Quay present.

After the pastorate had been consummated the first list of Sabbath school officers and teachers was as follows: T. J. Andrews, Sr., superintendent; D. F. White, assistant superintendent; John C. Hanley, secretary; George L. Thompson, treasurer; teachers, Messrs. A. K. Knox, Charles Hanley, D. F. White, E. E. Chambers, F. L. Andrews, and Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Mrs. Dallas and Mrs. Hall.

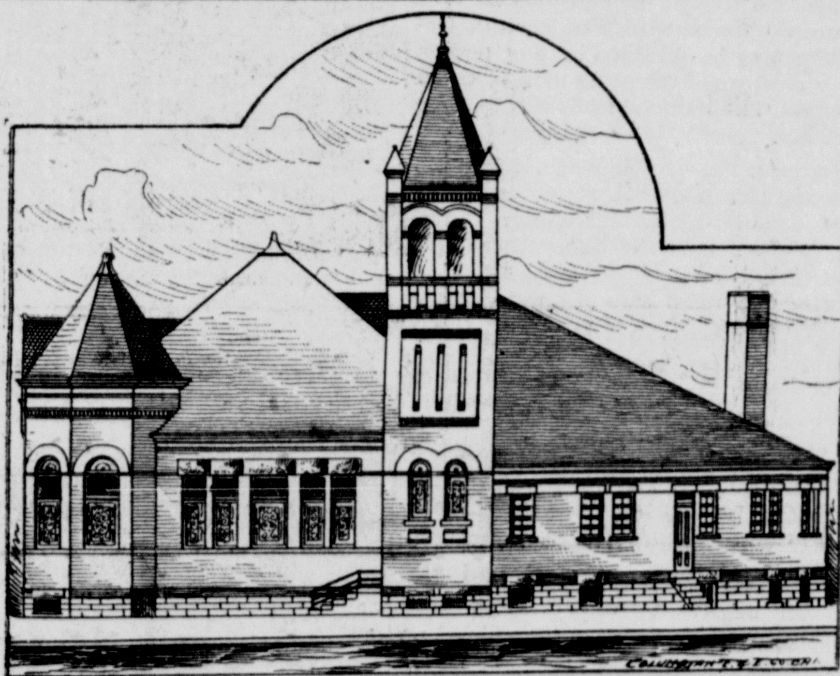

During the pastorate of Rev. A. K. Knox there were 142 accessions to the membership of the church, 72 by profession of their faith in Christ as their Saviour and 70 by certificate from other churches.

The pastorate of the present minister (Rev. J. R. Greene) began April 1, 1895, he serving as stated supply till the time of his ordination and installation, June 11, 1895, or three years and three months ago. During that time there have been 42 infant baptisms and 20 adults and 20 deaths. Of the deaths, two were elders—Geo. L. Thompson and Milton Ralston—two baptized members, Ralph White and Hubert D. Weeks.

The superintendents of the Sabbath school have been E. A. Stevenson, H. A. Weeks, D. F. White, J. B. Elliott and E. A. Stevenson for the second time. The number of pupils has increased from 147 to 175, and the average attendance from 80 to 110.

There have been 14 communions during the present pastorate and 400 sermons preached, including funerals. Three hundred of these sermons were preached by the pastor.

Some two years ago it became evident to some of the members that in the near future an effort would be necessary to build a new church. The Women's Missionary society made the start and

Wheeling presbytery, was secured as stated supply, and commenced his labors on the fourth Sabbath, 22d of January, 1888. The congregation was organized the 15th of the next March with a membership of 47. Forty of these were by certificate from the First church and seven by profession of their faith, four of whom received the ordinance of baptism.

"So acceptable were the labors of Mr. Knox that on the 8th day of April, only a little more than two weeks after the organization of the church, a unanimous call was extended to him to become their pastor. This call was sustained by presbytery and accepted by the brother the next week, the organization of the church and the calling of the pastor being reported to the same meeting of presbytery.

"The ordination and installation of the pastor occurred at the meeting of presbytery in June.

"Thus did this congregation, the child of many prayers, and the fruit of much earnest and faithful work, enter upon its mission as a separate and fully equipped church.

"That it may long continue in its work, and that many through it may be gathered into the kingdom of our Lord and fitted for His service here and His Glory hereafter, is the earnest prayer of him who writes this brief history of its beginnings.

J. C. TAGGART,

Pastor of the First U. P. church, East Liverpool, Ohio."

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH

during the interval have succeeded in depositing with the Potters' Building & Savings company over $300 for the project.

Extraordinary decay in the roof, added to the growth of the congregation, made immediate action necessary and the people have responded with a will, over $4,000 having been pledged up to this date. The foundation of the new church building is now completed and work on the superstructure will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

ERNEST BURROWS DEAD

A Well Known Liverpool Boy Loses His Life

WHILE SERVING HIS COUNTRY

Enlisted as a Private in a Louisiana Regiment When the War Broke Out and Was Stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.—The Remains Will Be Brought Here.

Another East Liverpool boy who went forth to serve his country in the war with Spain has been called to his last reward.

Mrs. Henry DeTemple, of Trentvale street, last evening received a telegram from Jacksonville, Fla., announcing the death of Ernest Burrows, a private in Company H, Second Louisiana Volunteer infantry, Captain Cooper commanding.

The body was ordered sent to this city, and is expected to arrive not later than Monday noon.

Private Burrows was a resident of the city for a number of years, and was well and favorably known. For years he was employed in the packing shed of the Thompson pottery, and was seriously injured in an accident on the railroad near the pottery. He entered suit against the railroad company, and was awarded damages to the amount of $3,000, but the case was afterwards compromised. He was prominently identified with the Young Men's Christian association when it was first instituted.

When the war broke out he was working in the south and was among the first to enlist when the call for volunteers was made.

The interment will be made in River-view cemetery, but the arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

NO MONEY.

A Toronto Member of Company E Stranded in the City.

Yesterday when Company E arrived in the city they had with them one of their members who was from Toronto. He had no funds, and as his transportation was only furnished to this city he had no means of getting home as there was no one here to meet him. He wandered around the city for some time, but finally his story became known, and in less time than it takes to tell it his fare was paid and he was sent on his way rejoicing.

Company E, Attention!

The Awkwardness of Being a Prince.

The Prince of Wales is placed by fate in the most difficult position of any English subject. Labeled incessantly, continuously and malignantly, silence is imposed on him by reasons of state. If he patronizes the drama, for the neglect of which the queen is persistently blamed, the prince is depicted as a trifle, who finds in the society of mummies relief from the tedium of a wasted life. If he encourages our national sports, he is a profligate and is compared with royal predecessors, whose conduct would certainly not commend itself today even to the staunchest supporters of monarchy. If he does not lavish money he does not possess, he is said to be stingy. If he makes an outlay on a church at Sandringham or a ball at Marlborough House, he is a spendthrift. Unworthy friendships are attributed to him with men upon whom he has never set eyes or with whom he may perhaps have exchanged a casual word. If he plays a game of cards, he is a gambler.

Fierce as is the light that beats upon a throne, and the cruel and searching illumination of the prince's life inflicts on him the disabilities and responsibilities, while denying him either the power of the throne or the privileges of a private station.—Harper's Magazine.

The English Broom.

One of the botanical oddities of Massachusetts is the existence of the English broom, which grows in only two places—in Sterling, this county, and in Salem. It is not a native plant, and how it got across the water is a mystery. Perhaps some homesick colonist caused it to be sent to him, that the hills about his new home might have the familiar appearance of the old country. It is a beautiful golden yellow in color and grows in a compact, spirelike plant, with blossoms close together. So thick are the stalks that the pastures are like sheets of gold, and at first sight seem to be buttercups in masses. Arba Pierce brought some of it into the city and proposes to make a display of it at the exhibition of the horticultural society.

Every one has heard of the broom. English and Scotch literature is full of it. It was the flower of the royal house of Plantagenet. In fact, the name Plantagenet is the French for broom plant a genet. Their ancestor, the Count d'Anjou, wore a string of broom as a badge, therefore their name. The name broom is given it because of its usefulness for the purpose.—Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.

A Bismarck Duel.

A duel in which Bismarck was once engaged had a very amusing origin. It occurred when he was chief secretary of the Prussian legation at Frankfurt. He went much into society, and one Christmas attended a big ball. During the height of the festivities Bismarck's attention was directed to an exceedingly pompous individual who strutted about the room. This was a M. de Clancy, a noted French duelist. Later on this important individual took part in a dance, but having omitted to leave his hat at the proper place had perforce to hold it out almost at arm's length while he danced. The spectacle tickled Bismarck immensely, and as the Frenchman came sailing majestically along Bismarck stepped forward and dropped a coin into the hat. A duel was one of the next day's events. Though it was with pistols Bismarck escaped unhurt, while his adversary was wounded.

Seeing the Sights.

Even in these days of liberal education young women sometimes show how confused are the ideas shut up in their heads. Illustrative of this is the naive blunder which Edmondo de Amicis recounts in his story of a voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres:

The captain of the steamer which numbered the charming young blunderer among its passengers met her one morning and said:

"Signorina, we cross the tropic of cancer today."

A Wedding Announcement.

This is how the editor of the Humboldt (Kan.) Herald recently announced his marriage: "Mr. F. A. McCarthy (that's us) and Miss Nannie Fisher (that's more of us) were united in marriage Wednesday, July 27, at 10 a. m. The ceremony was followed by a sumptuous repast, which we have only a faint recollection of. Some way events seemed to crowd on each other then, and God has given us the best earthly thing within his gift. The joy in a sweet wife is too great to be described—too sacred to be spoken of."

An African Mother-in-law.

A native has been committed to the high court for trial for mutilating his mother-in-law by cutting off her ear.

The native averred that his mother-in-law had attempted to entice her daughter away from him, her lawful husband, to some other native, and he took the extreme measure of cutting off her ear as a gentle hint to mind her own business.—Gwelo Times.

Not Wanted.

"I have here," he began, "a little poem, the child of"—

"Sorry," interrupted the editor, "but I couldn't think of taking a child away from its parent."—Harlem Life.

The climate is remarkable for its invigorating effect, and the state is rich in grand scenery and points of interest where a vacation may be pleasantly spent. Special arrangements are being made for the entertainment of visitors who are this season expected to be attracted to the seclusion and quiet of the Rockies and the hills and canyons of that great wonderland.

Colorado today is nearer home than in former years. The fast schedules of the Pennsylvania route and connecting lines bring the centennial state within easy reach, and the cost of a trip thither is no longer a luxury. The special low rate tourist tickets over the Pennsylvania lines places the cost for transportation within the limit of the usual allowance for vacation trips. For special information about rates, time of trains and other details please apply to nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent or address J. K. Dillon, D. P. agt., Pittsburg, Pa. *

Hardships Endured by Soldiers.

The authorities of New York state are angry because the Third regiment, New York volunteers, was obliged to march from Camp Alger to Thoroughfare Gap. The men experienced a series of hardships which were unnecessary at least, according to the reports received.

The first day's march was conducted in the heat of the day, during which many of the men fell on the roadside from exhaustion. One died while on the march, and five as a result of it. In consequence of the nonarrival of the wagon train the men were without food for 24 hours succeeding their first day's march. On the third day they proceeded in a heavy rainstorm and without drinking water, the men being compelled to drink from the muddy pools along the road. These are but samples of what was experienced during that march.

Summer Havens.

Illustrated information about America's popular summer resorts is being distributed by passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. It includes descriptions of leading places of summer sojourn along the coast, in the mountains of the east, and in the lake region and Northern Michigan, all of which are within easy reach over the Pennsylvania route. For a copy please apply to the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or address your requests to J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent, Pittsburg, Pa.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

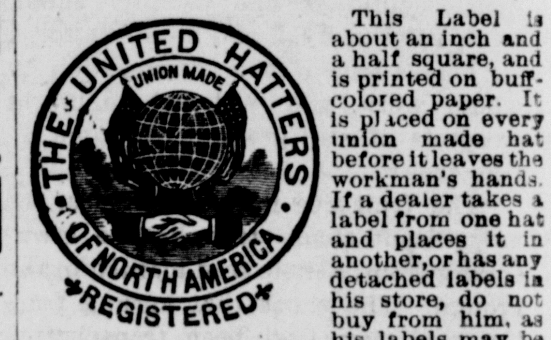

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

Good only during month named in lower left corner, and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

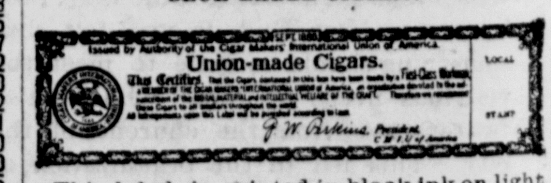

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

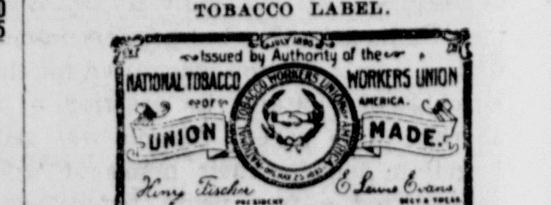

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

FUNDS FOR A HOSPITAL

A Prominent Man Will Donate
$10,000.

With Enough Money to Keep It Free
From Debt, and at Least $20,000 Should
Be Raised Before a Site Is Purchased
and the Building Commenced.

That the city should have a hospital
is the opinion of a larger majority of the people, but they think it should be built
by contributions and not by the city.

A prominent business man in speaking of the matter to a representative of
the NEWS REVIEW said:

"I know where there is one man who is willing to donate $10,000 toward the erection of a hospital just as soon as the proper time arrives and he is convinced that such an institution can be maintained in the city.

"He thinks the hospital should be endowed with sufficient funds to keep it
free from debt, and when some other person comes forth with a like donation
of $10,000, then a movement should be made toward purchasing a site and erecting a building.

"There is no doubt that a hospital
would not be self sustaining in the city,
for a few years at least, but with the assistance of contributions and the aid
of the physicians it should be kept free
of debt. If ever a city needed a hospital this city does, as there is an unusually large number of young people working here who do not have their homes in the city and many lives would
be saved if given the proper attention."

LIEUTENANT ANDERSON

Will Be Able to Travel in a Few Days.

A recent letter received from T. F.
Anderson states that his son, Lieutenant George O. Anderson, who is in the Boston hospital, is slowly improving, but will not be home for a few weeks.
Lieutenant Anderson was very ill, and for 40 hours it was not known whether he would live. He is now on the mend and is out of danger. Mrs. T. F. Anderson left on the afternoon train for Boston where she will remain until her son is able to travel.

A VICIOUS DOG

Bit a Well Known Man as He Was Going to the Station.

This morning a dog in Second street caused much trouble. The animal has been acting strangely for several days, and although several attempts have been made to kill it they have not been successful. As a well known man was going to the station this morning the dog bit him on the right leg, but the bite was not deep enough to cause any trouble. The owner of the dog should see that it is killed immediately.

Boucicault and His Hair.

Boucicault for a number of years
used to dye the little fringe of hair he had, and it generally took on all the hues of the rainbow, much resembling Tittlebat Titmouse's experience in coloring his hair.

I was standing in front of the Union
Square theater one day after rehearsal
with the late Charles R. Thorne, Jr.,
and Joe Polk, writes Owen Fawcett,
and we were arguing the question who
should "buy," when along came Boucicault, as chipper as ever. Of course he must stop, ask all the news and have a chat, for he was a most entertaining
man and well worth listening to. On his preparing to leave Polk said, "Mr.
Boucicault, I do not wish to insult you,
but I wish to congratulate you on one
thing."

"Not a bit of it, my boy," said
Boucy. "What is it, Polk?"

"I see that you have given over dye-
ing your hair or what little hair you
had, and you do not know how much better it makes you look."

"Yes," said Boucicault, "I have found out one thing, and that is in all
the years I have been foolish enough to paint my hair I was only deceiving one person, and that one was myself. Good day, boys."—Detroit Free Press.

Spanish Cruelty.

The cruelty of the Spaniard, or rather his callousness, his recklessness of the lives of others, and even of his own, is a medieval and oriental survival, says Irving Babbitt in The Atlantic, and
then, too, there underlies the Spanish
temperament I know not what vein of primitive Iberian savagery. Mme.
d'Aulnoy relates that on a certain day
of the year it was customary for court
gallants to run along one of the main streets of Madrid, lashing furiously
their bare shoulders, and when one of these penitents passed the lady of his choice among the spectators he bespat-
tered her with his blood as a special
mark of his favor.

Insensibility to the suffering of animals, though general in Spain, is not
any greater so far as my own observation goes, than in the other Latin countries. Possibly medieval religion in so exalting man above other creatures, in refusing to recognize his relation to the rest of nature, tended to increase this
lack of sympathy with brute creation.
The Spanish peasant belabors his ass for
the same reasons that Malebranche kicked his dog—because he has not learned
to see in it a being organized to feel
pain in the same way as himself.

Home Influences.

Each one of us is bound to make the
little circle in which he lives better
and happier; each of us is bound to see
that out of that small circle the widest
good may flow; each of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out
of a single household may flow influences which shall stimulate the whole
commonwealth and the whole civilized
world.—Dean Stanley.

Warding Off Jealousy.

Old Gotrocks (savagely)—What's that! You mean to tell me that you really love my daughter for herself alone?

Young Hardup (tremulously)—Y-yes, sir, but I think I could learn to love you, t-too, sir, in t-t-time, sir.—Vanity Fair.

PROMINENT SANTIAGOANS DECLARE
THAT IT WILL BE INDEPENDENT.

Plenty of Educated and Cultured Men to Take Control—Need a Little Protection.
Spaniards and Cubans Agree That Nothing but Absolute Freedom Will Suffice.

With a view of gauging the exact
feeling existent among the inhabitants
of Santiago in regard to the annexation
of Cuba to the United States I have interviewed some of the most prominent men. I first called on Senor Lenardo Ros, ex-civil governor of the province of Santiago. He has for years been chief magistrate of the city, having
been appointed mayor at the close of the Ten Years' war. He it was who resigned when General Shafter overruled
his dismissal of several of his pro-Spanish subordinates.

Senor Ros, though long resident in
New York, is strongly in favor of the independence of Cuba, and has great
faith in the stability of such a government under the protection of the United States, as England holds protectorate
over certain territories. "Thus capital
would be invested with security and a strong influx of American and other emigrants would settle here under restricted emigration laws. With Spain's obnoxious tariffs removed and a complete reversal of her proscriptive policy, prosperity will soon return to the island.

"When the brunt of the rebellion so shook Spain's resources that Sagasta became forced to offer autonomy, it was a tacit recognition of the ability of the Cubans to govern themselves," added
the ex-governor. "By no means do I personally question America's motives,
but I can appreciate the hopes and fears
of the Cubans who have been in the field. War worn, ragged and hungry,
their property confiscated, they have fought manfully for an ideal. It is small wonder then that they are apprehensive
for the future, for they have fought and
are still ready to fight for their absolute independence."

One of General Toral's staff officers,
whose name I am asked not to mention,
but who is a relative of the humane General Hernandez de Velasco, said: "I doubt America's policy, and for the sake of the Cubans hope to see them
govern themselves, for, as the Spanish
proverb says, 'Better ride your own horse badly than have another man ride
him well.' If Cuba is annexed, it will be pure evidence that you Yankees have fostered the rebellion for your own ends
and are now grabbing what they helped fight for. Many Cubans have excellent education, and if the niggers get paid off the whites will soon form a government."

Mr. Mason, British consul at Santiago, is an ardent annexationist, and
as a business man fully realizes the advantages of a powerful government taking the reins. Some of the Spanish merchants also favor annexation now, but
one shipping agent, who agreed with
the rest that things would have been better under Spain, said he preferred
anything but American military control, that "seizes the wharfs and light-
ers, and even then cannot efficiently feed

its troops and gives no chance for merchants to land cargoes of food for which
the citizens are dying with money in their pockets. I charge the military authorities with gross mismanagement,
which is costing over 75 lives a day—
persons who want nourishing food and
find none to buy."

Dr. Caminero, the resident officer of the United States marine hospital service in Santiago, when asked if he thought the Cubans capable of self government replied strongly in the affirmative. "There are thousands of educated and respectable Cubans fully capable of self government, and with the
educational facilities that will follow
independence in a few years I feel a prosperous nation can arise speedily."

Senor Bory, a merchant and for 15
years Mexican consul, said: "I believe that a declaration of independence of
this island is imperative and necessary
for the well being and contentment of
the people. A government can be set up, and if the inhabitants should prove their inability to sustain it with wisdom or the leaders conduct themselves
imprudently the desire for annexation
will gain ground in the hearts of the people, who now, as ever, are opposed
to the idea."

Professor Miranda, a master of the institute and a learned resident of Santiago, is an ardent partisan of independence. "I have suffered for years,
as hundreds of others have suffered, for
my political ideas. I have been imprisoned and persecuted for desiring independence, and oppression has strengthened my desire for freedom. Our mission has been for independence and will not
be accomplished until we achieve it.
We, who have felt the iron heel of Spain and seen our families perish by
the hand of brutal officers, our brothers executed or exiled, should feel exceedingly apprehensive as to how far the
present misunderstanding with the United States will go in curtailing our future liberty, for which we have fought and will fight for until death,
come who may."

Dr. Rey, a graduate of an American college and having a large practice in Santiago, spoke very strongly against those who advocate the annexation of Cuba: "To ask me if the United States
should now step in and forcibly annex
this island is to ask if a theft is or is not a desirable act. Before God and before man Cuba has dearly earned her independence, and we are ready to stand
to the last to achieve it."—George
Clarke Musgrave in New York Journal

Put to Flight.

This hero of the conflict was a man of valor
rare;
He'd face a battleship with frowning guns and
never care,
He quietly commanded and was instantly
obeyed,
And when the foemen saw him they were utterly dismayed.

His nerves would show no tremor in a shower
of shot and shell;
He kept his self possession as he struggled
long and well;
In all his life it never once occurred to him to run

Until they'd signed a protocol and said that
war was done.
But in his quiet office, where he scanned his papers o'er,
A fearful pallor seized him when a sharp knock
shook the door
And the messenger politely handed him a lengthy list
Of the fair ones in the hallway who were waiting to be kissed.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW

Sunday Will Be Observed In the City In the Proper Way

WITH THE AID OF MAYOR BOUGH

The Blue Laws Go Into Effect Next Sunday and All Business Houses Must Close—No Cigars, Tobacco, Soda Water, or Candy Will Be Sold.

If business is transacted in any business house next Sunday, the owner or manager of such a place is liable to get into deep water, and will be compelled to tell Mayor Bough why the place was open upon the first day of the week. In other words, any storekeeper who sells anything upon the first day of the week is liable to be arrested.

The law upon which Mayor Bough has taken his stand states that "whoever engages in common labor upon Sunday, or shall open or cause to be open any building or place for the transaction of business on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or who shall require any person in his employ to engage in common labor on Sunday, shall, on complaint made within 10 days thereafter, and upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisoned not less than five days nor more than 30 days."

Mayor Bough would not speak at length on the subject, but said that the enforcing of the law was in accordance with his belief, and that the Christian people of the community demanded such action.

The officers have been instructed as to the law and next Sunday may file several charges.

A Columbiana County Patient Could Not Get In Newburg.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—[Special]—Recently Doctor Holland was deputized by Sheriff Gill to take Duacan Smith, of Wellsville, to the Newburg asylum, but when he arrived there with his patient admission was refused Smith because the time in which Columbiana county patients could be admitted there had passed. Judge Boone telegraphed instructions to Doctor Holland to proceed to Massillon with Smith.

Sheriff Gill is in East Liverpool and Wellsville today serving papers. He will also appraise lots 3188, 3190 and 3222 in East Liverpool in the case of Laura M. Barth against Ambrose C. Bradshaw and others.

A marriage license was issued to Wilson Howell and Bird Huffman.

It costs an average of 28 cents per day for each pauper in Columbiana county.

The following real estate transfers were made yesterday:

Thomas Chistine to W. N. Adams, one-fourth acre in Lisbon; consideration, $500.

H. A. St. Clair to Lucinda Halstead, lots 70 and 71, Hanover; consideration, $75.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Two Prisoners Remove Brick and Make Their Escape.

The first jail delivery that has occurred in the city for years happened last night, when two drunks made good their escape by removing part of the building.

Early last evening a telephone message was received at the fire station asking that an officer be sent to Sixth and Broadway immediately. Officers Bryan and Terrence responded, and as a result Kelley Henselman and Charles Nelson were arrested. They were taken to jail in the patrol where they were charged with being drunk and disorderly. They were put in the jail, but were not locked in the cells.

About 10 o'clock last night Officer White was going in the back part of the building, and when he opened the hall door leading to the jail vestibules he saw a lot of broken brick and mortar on the floor. The men that were put in at 6 o'clock had broke jail, and where they were no one could tell. The brick wall above the jail door has been sinking for several years, and the mortar has been crumbling out. When the men had one brick loose their way was clear, as the taking of the others was work which required but a short time. Their charge was the slightest that could be placed against them, and why they broke jail is not known to the police to the present time.

This is the first time anyone has broken jail in Liverpool for at least six years.

John F. Quick, aged 45 years, died at his home in East Market street this morning at 11 o'clock. Apoplexy was the cause of death. Services will be held this evening, and the body will be taken to Parkersburg for burial tomorrow morning.

Mr. Quick came to this city about four years ago, and was well and favorably known. He was a prominent church worker, and was a member of the Christian church.

Eight months ago today he received an apoplectic stroke that took from him the use of his right side. A second stroke was not so severe, and caused no serious results. The third and last stroke attacked him yesterday evening, and he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness, from which he never awakened.

Too Much Eating.

Gluttony has its victims, hardly less numerous than other vices. To overeat is to overburden the digestive organs to such an extent that it will be impossible for them to perform their duties properly. Deleterious products are created, and health is finally destroyed. A prominent judge used to say such men dig their graves with their teeth—and it is so. On the other hand, there are those who eat too little. All extremes are evils that experience should govern. —Exchange.

The Earth's Shadow.

The earth has a shadow, but very few ever see it, except in eclipses of the moon, or else few recognize it when they see it. Nevertheless, many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer shortly before sunset a rosy or pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes it. This is the shadow of the earth.
